THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Probable Failure of the Measure.

The Wilmington Affair to be Investigated.

Passage of the Anti-Reciprocity Resolution.

The Financial Wants of Mr. Fessenden.

HONORS TO VICE-ADMIRAL FARRAGUT.

Special Dispatches to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Jan. 12.

REPORTED RETURN OF FRANCIS P. BLAIR, SEN.

It is reported in town this evening that FRANCIS P. BLAIR, Sr., has arrived in town from Richmond.

THE WILMINGTON FAILURE.

The causes of the failure of the recent Wilmington expedition will be immediately investigated. Gen. BUTLER has been summoned to appear before the Committee on the Conduct of the War as a witness. The object of this investigation will be to ascertain the cause of Gen. BUTLER's removal.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

Sensible men in Congress begin to feel that the debate on the Constitutional amendment is dragging out to a quite unprofitable length; every day's discussion will be likely to diminish the prospects of its passage.

GEN. BUTLER'S REMOVAL.

The removal of BUTLER developed a surprisingly small amount of feeling.

LOUISIANA ELECTION.

The House Committee on Elections resumed the consideration of the Louisiana elections, and after a discussion of an hour and a half, failed to reach a definite conclusion. The subject has proved a very knotty one to the committee, owing to the fact that its adoption establishes a new principle for the admission of rebel States.

VICE ADMIRAL FARRAGUT.

A distinguished compliment was paid Vice-Admiral FARRAGUT in the Senate to-day, by that body taking a recess in order that the Senators might be introduced to him personally on the floor of the Senate. After the introduction he was escorted to the House by Senator GRIMES, Chairman of the Naval Committee, and was introduced to members by Representative RICE, Chairman of the House Committee on Naval Affairs.

THE MILITARY NOMINATIONS.

Of the list of military nominations recently sent into the Senate by the President, the Military Committee of the Senate, have considered and agreed to report for confirmation the following in the regular army: Maj.-Gen. W. T. SHERMAN, to date from Aug. 12, 1864; Maj.-Gen. G. G. MEADE, to date from Aug. 18, 1864; Maj.-Gen. P. H. SHERIDAN, to date from Nov. 8, 1864; Maj.-Gen. G. H. THOMAS, to date from Dec. 15, 1864; Brig.-Gen. HANCOCK, to date from Aug. 12, 1864; Col. BENJ. S. FISHER, to be Chief of Signal Corps, to date from Dec. 3, 1864. None of the other nominations have yet been considered in Committee.

THE FINANCES.

The Ways and Means Committee, after disposing of the Appropriation Bill under consideration, took up the proposition of Secretary FESSENDEN, in reference to a further issue of seven-thirty bonds, but did not arrive at any conclusion. They are hearing daily the several delegations on leaf and manufactured tobacco. It will be some little time before they are ready to report the amendment to the tax bill.

Dispatches to the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Jan. 12.

SIXTY DAYS' NOTICE NOT REQUIRED.

Several days ago, on motion of Mr. POMEROY, the Committee on the Judiciary was instructed to inquire if any further legislation was necessary to enable the President to call an extra session of Congress, to meet the necessity of any public emergency, without the delay of giving sixty days' notice to the members elect. The committee was to-day discharged from the consideration of the subject, as no law could be found requiring the President to give any notice whatever.

It will be recollected that Congress having adjourned without passing the army appropriation bill, President PIERCE issued a proclamation calling for an immediate extra session. Some of the members had left the city on their way home, but returned to Washington on the Executive summons.

The sixty days' notice has usually been given to afford an opportunity to fill vacancies, and to enable far-distant members to reach Washington.

THE TEN-FORTY LOAN.

Since the ten-forty loan closed on Saturday, returns have been made to the Treasury amounting to about $32,000,000. This would leave outstanding about $40,000,000 of the $200,000,000 loan. But, as other returns are to be made, the amount unsubscribed will be still further reduced.

THE NAVAL FORCE ON THE LAKES.

The Senate to-day received a message from the President in reply to a resolution requesting information concerning an arrangement limiting the naval armament on the Northern lakes. An enclosure from the Secretary of State refers for its history to the American State papers, showing that the limitations of force to be maintained was sought by this Government, and that though the connection with Great Britain was somewhat informal as published in the Revised Statutes, yet it appears on consulting the original papers to have been duly approved by the President, ratified by the Senate, and proclaimed by law. The arrangement was made between RICHARD RUSH, Acting Secretary of State, and CHARLES BAGOT, British Envoy Extraordinar.

PREPARED TO SPEAK.

At least six members of the House have prepared themselves to speak on the anti-slavery constitutional amendment, in addition to those who have already expressed their views. The vote will probably be taken this week. The indications are that it will probably be a close one. Its friends are not yet satisfied that its result will be favorable to them.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE.

The bi-monthly report of the Commissioner of Agriculture for November and December says:

"However great the loss of farm labor has been, especially in the Western States, the usual amount of wheat, rye and barley has been sown. The weather has been unusually favorable for putting these crops in, and hence the labor of the country has had a longer time during which to operate. It has been equally as favorable for the growth of these crops, and should they escape freezing out, the Spring will open with the promise of an undiminished yield of these important staples."

DESERTERS FROM THE REBEL GUNBOAT RICHMOND.

In the party of rebel deserters who arrived here to-day from City Point, were several of the crew of the rebel gunboat Richmond, who report that that craft is lying near Chapin's Bluff on the James River with scarcely a sufficient complement of men to work her, as the desertions among her men had been so numerous within a month past.

FERNANDO WOOD ON PEACE RUMORS.

During his speech in the House to-day, Mr. COX, of Ohio, alluded to the various rumors in regard to peace, and to the reports in circulation of persons going to Richmond in behalf of peace, but remarked that the gentleman behind him, FERNANDO WOOD, of New-York, had just said there was no truth in them.

COAL MEASUREMENT.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that, in States where the number of bushels for a ton of coal is specified by the State law, the officers of the internal revenue will adopt the provisions of the law in the assessments of the tax.

CONFIRMATIONS.

The Senate, in executive session, to-day, confirmed the following nominations by the President:

JOHN WILSON, of Illinois, to be Third Auditor of the Treasury.

STODDARD B. COLBY, of Vermont, to be Register of the Treasury.

ELIJAH SELLS, of Iowa, to be Auditor of the Treasury for the Post-office Department.

ROBERT S. RANTOUL to be Collector of Customs for the district of Salem and Beverly, Mass., vice PHILIPS, resigned.

CHAUNCEY HARRIS to be Postmaster at Elizabeth, N. J.

CHARLES MCCUTCHINS to be Postmaster at Peekskill, N. Y.

THIRTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS.

SECOND SESSION.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Jan. 12.

THE NAVAL FORCE ON THE LAKES.

The Chair laid before the Senate a message from the President, giving information as to an agreement between the United States and Great Britain, concerning the naval force on the lakes, which was ordered to be printed.

THE PAY OF FEMALE CLERKS.

Mr. WILSON, of Massachusetts, (Union,) presented the petition of Mrs. JANE SWISSHELM, asking for an increase of pay for female clerks, which was referred to the Finance Committee.

NOTICE FOR AN EXTRA SESSION NOT REQUIRED.

Mr. TRUMBULL, of Illinois, (Union,) from the Judiciary Committee, to whom was referred a resolution instructing that committee to inquire if further legislation was necessary to authorize the President to call an extra session of Congress without giving sixty days notice, reported and asked to be discharged. Mr. TRUMBULL said they could find no law requiring the President to give sixty days' notice. No notice whatever was required by law.

BRIDGING THE OHIO.

Mr. POWELL, of Kentucky, (Dem.) from the Judiciary Committee, reported back the petition of certain railroad committees, asking permission to build a bridge across the Ohio River at Louisville. He asked that the petition be referred to the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads, and it was so ordered.

THE FEES TO ATTORNEYS AND SOLICITORS.

Mr. TRUMBULL offered a resolution, which was adopted, calling upon the Heads of the several Departments for information as to the amount paid by each for attorneys and solicitors.

THE PRICE OF INDIAN LANDS.

Mr. DOOLITTLE, of Wisconsin, (Union,) called up a resolution in relation to the sale of Indian lands, limiting the price of the same, which was passed.

THE RECIPROCITY TREATY.

On motion of Mr. SUMNER, of Massachusetts, (Union,) the Senate proceeded to the consideration of the resolution to repeal the Reciprocity Treaty.

Mr. HOWE, of Wisconsin, (Union,) took the floor in opposition to the repeal of the Treaty.

RECESS.

At 1:30 o'clock Mr. GRIMES interrupted Mr. HOWE by asking that the Senate take a recess of ten minutes, to allow its members to pay their respects to Vice-Admiral FARRAGUT, who was upon the floor.

The recess was taken.

THE WILMINGTON FAILURE.

Mr. WILSON offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Committee on the Conduct of the War be directed to inquire into the causes of the failure of the late expedition to Wilmington, N. C., and to report back to the Senate.

THE RECIPROCITY TREATY AGAIN.

Mr. HOWE resumed the floor on the Reciprocity Treaty.

Mr. MORRILL, of Maine, (Union,) succeeded Mr. HOWE, and advocated the repeal of the treaty, which, he said, had been unfavorable to the interests of the people of New-England. He argued to show that the treaty had been unequal in its operations, and that the advantages of it had been reaped by Canada to a greater extent than by the United States.

Mr. CHANDLER, of Michigan, (Union,) favored the repeal of the treaty. The Board of Trade of Detroit did not represent the people of Michigan when they opposed its repeal. They represented only the interests of merchants; but the farmers of Michigan were not in favor of the treaty. The people of Canada had been in sympathy with the rebellion ever since it commenced, and this was another reason why the action recommended by the Committee on Foreign Relations should be taken.

Mr. FOOTE, of Vermont, (Union,) could see no occasion for protracting a debate on a question on which there could hardly be, he said, a divided opinion in Congress or in the country. While the treaty had proved highly beneficial to the interests of the people in Canada, it had proved prejudicial to the interests of the people of the United States. It was reciprocal only in name.

Mr. HALE, of New Hampshire, (Union,) argued against the repeal of the treaty, stating that its advantages had been reciprocal, and not one-sided, as stated by many Senators. Mr. HALE, after some further remarks against the repeal of the treaty, moved to refer the subject to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. DOOLITTLE, of Wisconsin, (Union,) explained why he should vote for the resolution. The new revenue system of the Government demanded the abrogation of the treaty.

Mr. WILSON, of Massachusetts, (Union,) said he had prepared an amendment, that instead of repealing the treaty, a commission be appointed to make a new treaty.

Further remarks on the subject were made by Messrs. CONNESS, RIDDLE and HENDRICKS, the two former in favor of the repeal of the treaty, and the latter against it.

A motion to refer the subject to the Judiciary Committee was lost.

The yeas and nays were then called on the passage of the resolution, which was adopted by Yeas, 31; Nays, 8.

Those voting in the negative were Messrs. Buckalew, Dixon, Hale, Hendricks, Hicks, Howe, Ramsay and Van Winkle.

THE ALLEGED MISCONDUCT OF COL. CHIVINGTON.

Mr. HARLAN offered a resolution, instructing the Secretary of War to suspend all pay and allowances of the officers of the command of Col. CHIVINGTON, of Colorado, until an investigation of the conduct of Col. CHIVINGTON, in the late attack on an Indian camp, shall take place; and that all articles taken from the Indians by his command shall be returned.

The resolution was ordered to be printed.

The Senate then went into executive session, and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Jan. 12.

REORGANIZATION OF THE REBEL STATES.

Mr. ELLIOTT introduced a substitute for the bill to reorganize the rebel States, providing that none of them shall be allowed to resume their political relations until the loyal citizens organize a government, republican in form, and forever prohibiting involuntary slavery, and further providing that Louisiana shall resume her political relations under her constitution adopted in April, 1864. The substitute was ordered to be printed.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

The House resumed the discussion of the proposed constitutional amendment.

Mr. SMITH, of Kentucky, (Union,) felt it to be his duty to lay aside all personal considerations and prejudice, and devote himself alone to his country, his whole country. Nothing, he contended, was so destructive to our peace as the ultra doctrine of State Rights, which had recently been proclaimed in this House. This doctrine, if carried out, would subvert all the principles of Government and republicanism, and bring us to the position of perfect despotism and ruin. He denied the argument of the gentleman from Ohio, (Mr. PENDLETON,) that the right of revolution existed at all times, but admitted any people would be justified in resorting to the right of revolution whenever the Government becomes so oppressive or despotic as not to be borne, and when there are no other means of redress, yet gentlemen here are bold and audacious enough to go a step beyond the most ultra Southern fire-eaters. It was the duty of Congress to pass this joint resolution, in order to afford the people an opportunity of passing upon the amendment, and it was the duty of the people to adopt it. We shall destroy slavery, root and branch, as soon as possible. We must have the Union without slavery, and no vote of his should be given but for that which looks to the utter, absolute, and unconditional abolition of slavery throughout the United States. He thanked God he had seen the day when we can wipe out slavery, and Kentucky, acquiescing in the act, will stand among the proudest States of the Union.

Mr. SMITH also spoke of the advantages which would result from free labor in the South, both in an economic and patriotic aspect. If the negroes now in Kentucky were taken out of the State, not a man there would raise his voice against it. He repeated that he was in favor of the amendment because he wanted a permanent peace by removing the distracting cause. He had always thought we would be sufficiently able to suppress the rebellion. This would be done, and then we could march to Mexico and possess it, and give it to the negroes as a heritage of their victory over the French. We can and will do it, and NAPOLEON had better look well to his interests and MAXIMILIAN to his throne. The nefarious and abominable doctrine of State Rights will be wiped out, and then we will have one Government of one people over all, the States free and independent, every State owing and rendering allegiance to the Government, and all stronger than ever before in our history.

Mr. COX, of Ohio, (Dem.,) said that the Administration party had made an anti-slavery amendment to the Constitution a part of their political creed, while the opposition at Chicago proposed as their issue the cessation of hostilities with a view to the calling of a national convention in pursuance of the fifth article of the Constitution. Regarding this as the most practical way of settling our difficulties, the Chicago Convention waived all other questions. In casting his (COX's) vote nominating Mr. PENDLETON for the Vice-Presidency, he knew that gentleman indorsed the cessation of hostilities and the calling of a national convention. If his colleague had been elected to that office, which he would have graced so well, he would now be appealing to the people of the North and the South to call a convention of all the people. The North would have yielded, and his (COX's) information was that the South would have held back. He proceeded to argue why, in a state of war, he was opposed to making such a radical amendment, although not questioning the power to make it. If he thought by voting for the amendment, he could save the Union, he would do so, though all the devils North and South should expend their wrath against him; but he would appeal to gentlemen to say whether he was bound to vote for it, if he believed its adoption would prolong the war. He admitted the power, under the guards of the Constitution, to establish slavery or free institutions, or an entire monarchy, or an entire democracy, but he had no fears that the people would destroy their liberties.

Mr. WOODBRIDGE, of Vermont, (Union,) referring to Mr. COX, said that he regretted that a man who had always lived in the North, and who had always lived in the Union as he (COX) did, should, while admitting the power, be unwilling to vote for an amendment to blot from the face of the Government the only relic of barbarism which blots and impairs its beauty. He then argued the question of power to pass the pending resolution, denying that it would interfere with vested rights. Slavery had sought to strike a death-blow at the national life and to overthrow the Government; could it, therefore, be said there was no power to propose a constitutional amendment to remove the danger. To preserve the national existence it is competent to say that slavery shall not exist as property. He argued in favor of the policy of passing the joint resolution declaring that slavery has been tried at the Bar of Omnipotence and found wanting.

Mr. THAYER, of Pennsylvania, (Union,) referred to the arguments which had been urged on the opposite side against the resolution, and characterized the argument of FERNANDO WOOD as infernal, saying that he (WOOD) had backed up his argument by endeavoring to show that the best way to civilize savages was to make them and their children slaves to the remotest generation. He (THAYER) denied that the grant of power in the Constitution is limited, and contended on the contrary, that it is an unlimited power in common with other powers granted in the Constitution. The people held their liberties under their own protection and keeping, and if men come here and abuse their trust, and enact immoral and unjust laws, which subvert the free institutions of society, the remedy is with the people. They would clear this hall of all such men, and send others to pass laws in accordance with their welfare and justice. Congress did not propose to interfere, but to afford an opportunity to the people to say whether slavery should be abolished. If three-fourths of the States so decided, they have the right, under and according to the forms of the Constitution. In the course of his argument, Mr. THAYER expressed his regret that the gentleman from Ohio, (Mr. PENDLETON,) in sustaining his views with regard to the unconstitutionality of the resolution, should have been driven by stress of argument, to resort to that old, and he trusted, that fast dying fallacy which had led us to our present troubles.

The House then, at 4 o'clock, adjourned.

AN IMPORTANT RUMOR.

Call for a Convention of the Rebel States to Revolutionize the Revolution.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Jan. 12.

A gentleman in Washington, who has seen the Richmond Enquirer of Tuesday last, says that paper mentions the following:

"A call is out for a Convention of the Confederate States. The intention of the authors of the call is to revolutionize the revolution, to depose Mr. DAVIS, wipe out the Confederate Congress, appoint a dictator in his stead, and perhaps surrender to the enemy."

Wisconsin Legislature—The Governor's Message.

MADISON, Wis., Thursday, Jan. 12.

The Legislature of Wisconsin organized yesterday, the Senate electing F. M. STEWART, Clerk, and —— WILLIAMS, Sergeant at Arms, and the Assembly electing W. W. FIELD, Speaker; JOHN E. DEAN, Clerk; and A. WILCOX, Sergeant at Arms, all Unionists.

The Governor's message was delivered in joint convention of the two Houses to-day. It presents a comprehensive view of the state of public affairs. The State debt is $2,500,000, all but $100,000 of which was incurred for war purposes, mainly for extra pay to the families of volunteers, for which $615,694 were expended last year. The total receipts are $2,550,648, and the disbursements, $2,443,028. Very little of the contingent fund for the relief of sick and wounded soldiers has been expended. Wisconsin has furnished 75,133 men to the army, besides hundred days troops, and has now in the service 42,162. The amendment of the militia laws, the disfranchisement of those who flee from the draft, and the extension of the soldiers' suffrage law, and the taking of the census are recommended. The State benevolent institutions are all in a flourishing condition. The Message concludes with an argument in favor of the abolition of slavery, and just and patriotic remarks on the war, its causes and consequences.

The Execution of Green, the Malden Murderer, Deferred—Aid for Savannah.

BOSTON, Thursday, Jan. 12.

To-morrow was the day assigned for the execution of GREEN, the Malden murderer; but it is understood that the Governor has withheld his signature from the warrant, and that the execution of the sentence is deferred for action by the next Executive Council.

The fund for the relief of Savannah already amounts to $25,000. The steamer Greyhound will be dispatched on Saturday to Savannah with provisions.

LEE'S ARMY.

Rumors About Lee—His Projected Movement—Grant Prepared.

CITY POINT, Wednesday, Jan. 11, 1865.

All remains quiet in front, although rumors begin to float about that LEE is contemplating some movement or other, but what that movement is no outsiders can imagine. Perhaps it is the one which is to "astonish the world." Whatever it be, I think LEE will find GRANT prepared. R. J. H.

FROM GEN. GRANT'S ARMY.

Deserters—The Rebel Cavalry—Repairing the Weldon Road.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Monday, Jan. 9.

Several rebel deserters came in to-day, besides a large number of contrabands. All were in the most wretched condition imaginable. They had traveled a long distance in the rain, and were objects of pity to all who saw them.

They report that the rebel cavalry have withdrawn to Hickford, on the Weldon Railroad, where they have gone into Winter quarters. They were compelled to fall back to this point, owing to the lack of forage between there and Reams' Station, and also for the lack of transportation, owing to the destruction of the railroad in that district by Gen. WARREN. They, however, picket as far as Reams' Station, and on the west side of Hatcher's Run, with a Division of Gen. HILL's Corps, located on the Boydstown plank road.

The rebels have been very busy preparing the railroad north of Hicksford for the relaying of the rails, but as yet none have been put down, probably because they do not possess them.

A beautiful flag was recently presented to the One Hundred and Sixth New-York Volunteers by the ladies of St. Lawrence and Franklin Counties, New-York. It is a handsome and costly flag, and is inscribed with the battles in which the regiment has been engaged. It is a well merited tribute to their bravery and gallantry.

Bad Weather—Confidence and Readiness of the Army—Quietude and Preparation.

From Our Own Correspondent.

HEADQUARTERS FIFTH CORPS, MONDAY, Jan. 9, 1865.

The wretched weather that has of late afflicted this army has rendered any aggressive or progressive movement utterly impossible. The men keep at work making themselves comfortable, repairing damages to their huts and works, and going through the dull and monotonous round of camp duty. Supplying themselves with wood, digging wells for good water, and trenches for their better health and greater comfort, and drilling and doing the inevitable guard and picket duty, they thus pass the weary hours and days, in the calm consciousness that at no distant day the glorious campaign that is still being carried on with so much vigor and success elsewhere, will be again resumed in front of Richmond. They know that the present lull and seeming calm only awaits the proper season and time to break forth with still greater force and irresistible fury. Each man feels the coming struggle calls for his utmost energy, and that when next the Army of the Potomac assumes the offensive, it will do so for the last time. All realize the fact that the incoming season of Spring and activity forms the closing scenes in this tremendous drama of war.

We have had but little to disturb the silence of the scene, for soldiers are but men after all, and discipline makes them quiet. Hence the absence of the accustomed roar and rattle of our pickets and belligerent forts. Now and then a solitary rifle gives shrill voice, and the sharp sound of its discharge echoes and reëchoes until it becomes dead and lost from mere inanition. A columbiad sometimes utters a hoarse protest against the unwonted silence, but it fails to disturb the army from its listless life.

During the past few days the clerk of the weather has been merciful, and vouchsafed us the enjoyment of a brief space of fine and brilliant weather. The mud is somewhat hardened by a slight frost, the air is quite bracing and delightful, but it is doubtful if we have a very long continuance of our present enjoyable spell of weather.

Last Friday several deserters were executed. I witnessed the shooting of one in the Second Corps, but I will not trouble your readers with any of the details. The man took the matter very coolly.

OUR ALBANY CORRESPONDENCE.

The Bounty Question—New-York City and County Affairs—The Investigation into the New-York City Departments—The Court of Appeals—A Point of Order.

ALBANY, Thursday, Jan. 12.

The bounty question is now distinctly understood to hinge upon the action that shall be taken by the Senate. The Senate Committee and the House Committee have consulted together, and decided to try the question on the Senate bill, so as to avoid the delay that might be occasioned by having to consider a multiplicity of projects. The general features of the law that should be enacted are beginning to be pretty well understood, and are substantially as stated in my letter of yesterday. The bounty question is the special order for this evening in the Senate, and decisive action is strongly desired.

In the Senate, last evening, the resolutions were adopted favoring Congressional action for amendment of the Constitution of the United States in relation to slavery, were adopted by an emphatic vote. Previous to the passage of the resolutions they were discussed by Senator HAVENS, who read a characteristically neat and clear speech in their support. Humorous and interesting remarks were made by Senator FIELDS in opposition to the resolutions.

New-York City and County affairs are coming into the House rapidly. Mr. STEWART introduced a bill this morning, providing to change the Board of Tax Commissioners. After abolishing the office of Commissioner of Taxes and Assessments for the City and County of New-York, it goes on to provide that SHERIDAN SHOOK, one of the Supervisors of the City and County of New-York, WM. C. CONNER, County Clerk, of the City and County of New-York, and JOHN D. OTTIWELL, one of the Aldermen of the City of New-York, "are appointed a Board of Commissioners for the purpose of selecting and appointing three persons to act as Tax Commissioners for the City and County of New-York." Mr. STEWART is very reticent in regard to the parties behind this bill, or the precise object aimed at. Notice of another Broadway railroad bill was given in the House this morning and more notices of the same kind are looked for. The Broadway railroad bill, which Mr. TALMAN gave notice of yesterday, he does not propose to introduce immediately. He is a trifle of a joker. He keeps his bill in his private room, shut up from the general gaze, and would not wish to have it desbribed for the amusement of the public. When all its parts are developed, and it is fully grown, then on some fine day, all will have an opportunity to see the elephant. Mr. VAN BUREN introduced a bill this morning, providing for the improvement and extension of the Croton Aqueduct reservoir works so as to store water now wasted, and authorizing an appropriation of three hundred thousand dollars for this object. This bill was referred to a select committee not yet appointed. It will be remembered that this measure failed last year, but it is hoped that a select committee will cause it to be brought before the House at an early day. With regard to the Senate Committee appointed to investigate the departments of the New-York City Government, it is worthy of note that Senator WHITE took occasion, to-day, to speak of his own position with regard to the investigation. He stated that he should enter upon the duty assigned in the interest of no party, but with what he esteemed to be broad and liberal views, and should endeavor to gain all the knowledge that could be obtained under the circumstances, in a limited time.

Some matters of general interest are progressing. The Committee on the Judiciary reported to the House this morning, the bill providing to submit to the people the question of amending the Constitution of the State, so as to provide for the appointment of five Commissioners or additional Judges of the Court of Appeals. Mr. BRANDRETH urged the passage of the bill immediately, and it was so passed, under a suspension of the rules. As the bill now stands, the time fixed for the people to vote upon the question is the second Tuesday of February next. Notice was given of a bill to reduce the minimum of the time for which criminals may be sentenced to State Prison. This is a proposition presented by Mr. RIDGEWAY, and is intended to meet those criminal cases where it is felt that the prisoner, though technically guilty, should not suffer the full penalty of the law. A bill was introduced by Mr. REED, of New-York, providing that the Governor may appoint a historian to gather up and record for publication facts of interest in regard to regiments of New-York volunteers, and instances of special bravery, &c.

A new point of order was made in the House today. A vote was taken yesterday authorizing the Committee on State Prisons to visit the prisons and report their condition, &c. To-day reconsideration was moved by a person not voting yesterday. The point of order was raised that a member not voting yesterday could not move consideration, according to parliamentary law—not having voted in the affirmative. The Speaker ruled the point of order not well taken. An appeal was taken from this decision, and the House refused to sustain it by a vote of 53 for it to 58 against it. According to previous practice, the Speaker was clearly right, and the House wrong. The point of order involved excited and still excites much discussion.

STATE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

ALBANY, Thursday, Jan. 12.

Mr. FOLGER reported the State Bounty Bill from the Select Committee.

It allows $300 for one year men, $400 for two years' men, and $600 for three years' men, and prohibits all local bounties.

The majority of the committee favor the raising of the whole of the indebtedness thus to be created this year by taxation.

The minority of the committee favor borrowing the amount of money required, the same to be paid within eighteen years.

BILLS NOTICED.

To amend the Charter of the Transit Life Insurance Company.

For the repayment of certain moneys collected by the Health Department.

To amend the charter of the Home for the Reformation of Juvenile Delinquents.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

Concerning certain public records in New-York.

To repeal the fair restriction in the Central Railroad Consolidation Act.

To facilitate the acquisition of lands by the Croton Aqueduct Board.

RESOLUTIONS.

To proceed to the election of a Regent of the University on the 18th of January, in place of JAMES S. WADSWORTH deceased. Laid over.

That the opinion of the Attorney-General be requested as to the constitutionality of creating State indebtednes for the purpose of encouraging enlistments. Adopted.

A telegram from the Gov. of Missouri to Gov. FENTON announcing that free Missouri greets New-York, was read by Mr. FOLGER and received with applause.

Mr. FOLGER then resumed and concluded his argument in the contested seat case in favor of Mr. LOW.

The Senate then took a recess.

EVENING SESSION.

The Senate held a special session this evening to consider the State Bounty Bill, which provides a bounty of $300 for one-year men, $400 for two-year men, and $600 for three-year men, and prohibits all other bounties except such as an individual may give to a substitute.

It appropriates thirty millions of dollars, to be raised by tax this year and apportioned among the several counties, towns and cities, in proportion to the number of men required from each.

Mr. COOK suggested as an amendment that every locality that has raised men under the present call be allowed $600 per man for them, and that the tax be levied according to the valuation of its taxable property.

This proposition was advocated by Messrs. ANDREWS, AMES and COOK, and was strenuously opposed by Messrs. STRONG, FIELDS, LAIMBEER and COZANS, who argued that the adoption of such a proposition would be equivalent to saying that the City of New-York should not only raise its own quota, but assist largely in raising the quotas of the rual districts.

No action was taken on this proposition.

On motion, the clause providing for the raising of the money by direct taxation this year was stricken out by a vote of 16 to 10.

Mr. FOLGER then moved an amendment, providing that the money shall be raised on bonds, falling due, one-third in six years, one-third in twelve years and one-third in eighteen years, the loan to be first submitted to the people at a special election on the 15th of August, in accordance with the requirements of the Constitution in regard to creating State debt.

Pending this motion, progress and the bill was made the special order for to-morrow evening

Adjourned.

ASSEMBLY.

BILLS NOTICED.

ALBANY, Thursday, Jan. 12.

To authorize the Board of Supervisors of New-York to raise money by tax.

The Speaker then presented the annual report of the Commissary-General of Ordnance; also, the annual report of the Adjutant-General.

The Speaker announced the following additions to the standing committees:

Roads and Bridges—Messrs. Lewis and A. A. Brown.

Militia and Public Defence—Messrs. Cole and Lapham.

Mr. BONHAM reported the bill to amend the Constition for the appointment of Commissioners of Appeals, and it was immediately passed.

The Speaker then announced the reception of the following communication;

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 11, 1864.

To Gov. Fenton:

Free Missouri greets you.

F. C. FLETCHER, Governor of Missouri.

FREE MISSOURI.

Pennsylvania to Missouri.

HARRISBURGH, Penn., Thursday, Jan. 12.

The following dispatch was received by Gov. CURTIN this morning:

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 11, 1865.

To the Governor of Pennsylvania:

Free Missouri greets her oldest sister.

T. C. FLETCHER, Governor of Missouri.

Gov. CURTIN sent the following reply:

HARRISBURGH, Penn., Jan. 12, 1865.

To His Excellency the Governor of Missouri, Jefferson City:

Pennsylvania, first born of freedom, welcomes her disenthralled sister State of Missouri. Redeemed in the agony of the nation and amid the throes of wanton rebellion, her offering to liberty comes baptized in her richest blood, and will be accepted by a faithful and free people as one of the crowning tributes to their matchless heroism, and their sacrifices to preserve and perpetuate our common nationality.

A. G. CURTIN, Governor of Pennsylvania.

From the Pacific.

SAN FRANCISCO, Thursday, Jan. 12.

The California Art Union, lately organized in this city, opens its first exhibition to-day, with one hundred and thirty paintings, many of which are by resident artists. The enterprise bids fair to be a success.

GRIERSON'S LAST RAID.

Forty Miles of Railroad Destroyed.

SEVEN HUNDRED PRISONERS CAPTURED.

The Rebel Brig.-Gen. Gholson Among Them.

CAVALRY CHARGE ON A STOCKADE.

CAIRO, Thursday, Jan. 12.

The following further particulars of GRIERSON's recent raid are from a reliable source. They brought in 700 prisoners, including two Colonels and a number of other officers, 1,000 able-bodied negroes and 1,000 horses. They killed and wounded 150 men. Among the prisoners is Brig.-Gen. GHOLSON.

A fortification called Egypt, on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, was carried by assault, and the garrison of 500 rebels captured, whilst Gen. GARDNER was in sight with 2,000 infantry, which Gen. GRIERSON held at bay, while Col. KARGE's brigade charged the stockade on horseback.

The whole country was in arms by this time, and forces were even brought from Macon, Ga.

Hampered by the large number of prisoners, and opposed by greatly superior forces, GRIERSON could not go to Cahawba to release our prisoners, as directed by Gen. DANA, but struck for Grenada, and then for Vicksburgh.

Forty miles of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad are so badly damaged that HOOD's whole army cannot repair it in months. New pontoons, new wagons, and a large amount of supplies, en route to HOOD, were destroyed in the cars.

Besides the factories, a large amount of cloth, wool, leather and shoes were destroyed at Bankston.

The railroad and public property were destroyed at Nevada, and also 300 wagons and 500 new English carbines for FORREST, and large quantities of ammunition.

GRIERSON's loss was twenty-five killed and eighty wounded.

The steamer Armada, from Evansville, reports Uniontown, Ky., in possession of guerrillas, who were firing into passing steamers.

LARKIN W. RAY, who murdered Surgeon D. G. SADDLER, was hung at Baton Rouge on the 30th ult.

FORREST is reported to be concentrating a large force at Paris, Tennessee. A great number of his men are hovering around their homes in Tennessee and Kentucky, conscripting, robbing and murdering Union men.

Rumors prevail of a force being organized to attack Paducah again.

One hundred and seventy-two rebel officers, prisoners from Johnson's Island, have arrived here, en route to New-Orleans, for exchange.

NEWS FROM REBEL SOURCES.

SHERMAN'S RULE IN SAVANNAH—A REBEL ACCOUNT.

The Augusta Chronicle and Sentinel of the 4th inst. publishes a number of news items, derived from a gentleman who left Savannah on the 1st inst.

The most perfect order is maintained in the city. No soldier is allowed to interfere with the citizen in any particular. A citizen was arrested by a drunken soldier a few days since. The citizen knocked the soldier down. The officer of the guard, as soon as he arrived, said nothing to the citizen, but had the soldier taken to the barracks, gagged and soundly whipped for his misbehavior.

A drunken soldier who undertook to create a disturbance recently, and who refused to allow himself to be arrested, was shot down at once by the guard.

One or two of the insurance companies of Savannah are considering a project of establishing a National Bank, for the issue of "greenbacks."

The Custom-house and Post-office are being cleaned and repaired, preparatory to the commencement of business again.

The soldiers are not allowed, under any circumstance whatever, to enter private residences.

The negroes, in most cases, are orderly and quiet, remaining with their owners, and performing their customary duties.

One store, with goods from the North, has already been opened.

Nothing but "greenbacks" are in circulation.

The churches, on Sundays, are well filled with ladies. On week days, however, but few of them are seen on the streets.

A majority of the male population have remained in the city.

The families of most of the men who have left still remain.

A majority of the citizens have provisions for some time to come, but there is a scarcity of wood, but Gen. SHERMAN has announced that he will soon remedy this last difficulty by getting wood, via the Gulf Railway, and hauling it to the citizens.

No pass is allowed to any male person to go toward the city.

All females who are caught going toward the city are thoroughly searched.

Eleven hundred loaves of good baker's bread, which had been collected for the soldiers of SHERMAN's army but for which authorized agents did not call, were on Thursday turned over to the Poor Association of Savannah by the committee acting in behalf of the soldiers' dinner, and were yesterday distributed to the poor of the city.

It was truly a kind and providential gift for the city is entirely out of breadstuffs of every kind, and for days past have been unable to issue a pound of meal or flour to the hundreds who were sorely in need of it.

The Whig says: "We are glad to hear through the Virginian of the arrival of Col. MOSBY at his father's residence in Amherst. His wound is doing well, and he expects to be able to return to duty in a short time. The Yankees will have another account to settle when he gets back."

BATTLE OF NASHVILLE—GEN. HOOD'S OFFICIAL REPORT.

From the Richmond Sentinel, Jan. 9.

The following official dispatch was received at the War Department on Saturday evening, from Gen. BEAUREGARD:

MACON, Jan. 7, 1865.

To Gen. S. Cooper, Adjutant and Inspector-General:

Gen. HOOD reports from Spring Hill, Dec. 27, 1864, that on the morning of the 15th instant, in front of Nashville, the enemy attacked both flanks of his army. They were repulsed on the right with heavy loss, but toward evening they drove in his infantry outposts on the left flank.

Early on the 16th the enemy made a general attack on his entire line. All their assaults were handsomely repulsed with heavy loss until 6:30 P. M., when a portion of our line to the left of the centre suddenly gave way, causing our lines to give way at all points, our troops retreating rapidly. Fifty pieces of artillery and several ordnance wagons were lost by us on that day. Our loss in killed and wounded heretofore small—in prisoners not ascertained. Maj.-Gen. EDWARD JACKSON, and Brig.-Gens. T. B. SMITH and H. R. JACKSON are captured.

G. T. BEAUREGARD, General.

DISPATCH FROM GEN. BEAUREGARD.

A dispatch received at the War Department from Gen. BEAUREGARD, dated Macon, Ga., says:

"HOOD reports from Tupelo, Jan. 6, that THOMAS appeared to be moving up the Tennessee River until 9 A. M. on the 4th.

Six gunboats and sixty transports had passed Savannah, Tenn., going toward Eastport, loaded with troops and supplies.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

GEN. SHERMAN'S ADVANCE.

CHARLESTON, Friday, Jan. 6.

The enemy, in unknown force, crossed New River, on the road to Grahamsville, this morning. Our forces burned the bridge across New River. The main body of the enemy is still believed to be in the neighborhood. Gen. WHEELER is watching his movements, which are not yet fully developed.

Grahamsville is seventy miles from Charleston and thirty-four from Savannah, on the Charleston and Savannah Railroad.

Dressed Hogs are in less demand, at 17c.@17¼c. for Western, and 17½c.@17¾c. for City, ℔ ℔. Lard is heavy; sales 1,200 tcs. and bbls. at 20c.@24½c., ℔ ℔. Beef is in fair request at $21@$24 50 for Extra Mess; $20@$22 for New Plain Mess; sales 650 bbls. Tierce Beef is unchanged. Beef Hams continue in demand; sales 250 bbls., at $26@$27 50 ℔ bbl. Butter is quiet to-day, at 46c.@56c. for poor to choice, and 58c.@60c. for fancy State, and 36c.@48c. for Western, ℔ ℔. Cheese is in less request, at 15c.@24c. for poor to very choice, ℔ ℔. The week's business in Butter and Cheese, Messrs. M. W. Starin & Co., notice thus: "The Butter market has shown more activity during the past week, and a considerable demand has prevailed both for Europe and California. Our last advices from the English markets, show that their own short make of Butter is now being felt, and that fine Butter is actually required. Many exporters have been holding back for the arrival of the enormous quantities of Butter, reported to be in the hands of dairymen, by parties whose interest has been to break down the market, but the non-arrival of the goods has placed the matter in a different aspect, and the export trade is slowly reviving. Advices from California are of a favorable character, and the demand for that market is good. Home trade is fairly active, and the consumption of fine goods is unusually large. The following comparative statement of the export of Butter to Liverpool and London may prove of interest: To Liverpool, during December, 6,966 packages, 100 ℔s.; same month last year, 13,870 packages, 100 ℔s.; from May 1 to Jan. 1, to Liverpool, 62,285 packages, 100 ℔s.; same time last year, 103,660 packages, 100 ℔s.; to London during December, 3,480 packages, 100 pounds; same month last year, 21,208 packages, 100 ℔s.; from May 1 to Jan. 1, to London, 9,824 packages, 100 ℔s.; same time last year, 36,553 packages, 100 ℔s. We note the export from this market to California as follows: For the year ending Jan. 1, 1864, 55,548 firkins; for the year ending Jan. 1, 1865, 55,423 firkins. The stock of fine Butter now in this market is not a surplus over the average of former years, notwithstanding a falling off in the export of nearly 19,000 firkins, and our views in regard to the stock in the dairy districts are unaltered. The market close firmly, and our quotations are unchanged:

Orange and Sussex Co. Dairies—firkins, ℔ ℔	.55	@60
Orange and Sussex Co—half firkin tubs, ℔ ℔	.60	@65
Fine State Dairies—firkins, ℔ ℔	.54	@56

The activity in the demand for Cheese for export, noted in our last report, has relieved the market of its surplus stock. The demand during the present week has been quite moderate, but the stock is light, and good to fine dairies are firmly held. Our quotations are unchanged:

State Dairies—factory made—fine	22½	@24½
State Dairies—factory made—fair to good	21	@22
State Dairies—extra quality	22	@23½
State Dairies—fair to good	20	@21

Orange County—flat skimmed	14	@15

TALLOW—Sales, to-day, 110,000 ℔s., at 17c.@17¼c; and 25,000 ℔s. Stearine at 23c. ℔ ℔. The week's business in Tallow, Messrs Knight & Sons notice thus: "Since our last report the market has been in a very unsettled state, there being but little disposition on the part of buyers to operate at the current rate, and an equal in disposition on the part of sellers to make sales to meet the views of buyers. The stock of strictly prime Tallow is small, and the arrivals are exceedingly light. The high rates of freight from the West make it impossible to bring Tallow from there to cover cost at the present current price here. Soap and candlemakers are supplying themselves exclusively with low grades of Tallow, owing to the extreme prices of all kinds of grease, which is bought up by oil pressers. The weak gold market causes exporters to hold off from filling orders expecting a still lower rate. Taking a general view of the market, stock, arrivals and consumption, there is nothing to indicate at present much lower prices. The sales for the week ending to-day have been very small, and the prices we give above are nominal, as any choice lots could not be bought at less than 18c. The supply of city rendered is a little larger than last week. Prices this day—1858, 10c.; 1859, 10¾c.; 1860, 10¼c.; 1861, 10c.; 1862, 9¾c.; 1863, 11c., 1864, 12¼c. ℔ ℔."

WHISKY—Sales, 900 bbls., in lots, at $2 25@$2 26, chiefly at $2 26; also, 500 bbls., buyer's option, 30 days, at $2 30 ℔ gallon.

FREIGHTS—For Liverpool, engagements were confined to 250 bxs. Bacon at 10s., and 500 bxs. Cheese at 12s. 6d.; also, by steamer, 700 bxs. Cheese at 30s. For London, 150 tons Measurement Goods at 12s. 6d.; 100 tcs. Beef at 3s. For Bremen, 250 hhds. and 300 bxs. Tobacco at 25s.@27s. 6d., and 17s. 6d., respectively. For Bordeaux, an Austrian ship, with heavy pipe staves, at $51.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

It was reported in Washington, last evening, that FRANCIS P. BLAIR, Sr., had returned from Richmond.

The Washington National Republican, of the 10th, says in reference to the removal of Gen. BUTLER: "In the last edition of the Republican, yesterday, we announced that Maj.-Gen. BUTLER was relieved as Commander of the Department of Virginia and North Carolina. It is perhaps proper to add that this was done at the instance and by the particular request of Lieut.-Gen. GRANT, the General-in-Chief of the Army of the United States."

The Augusta Chronicle and Sentinel of Jan. 4, contains a very interesting and apparently truthful account of Gen. SHERMAN'S rule in Savannah, as seen through rebel eyes. It says the most perfect order is maintained; no soldier is allowed to interfere with the citizens; two insurance companies propose to open a national bank; the custom-house and post-office are being cleaned and repaired, preparatory to being reopened. The soldiers are not allowed, under any circumstances whatever, to enter private residences. The negroes, in most cases, are orderly and quiet, remaining with their owners, and performing their customary duties. Nothing but "greenbacks" are in circulation. The churches, on Sundays, are well filled with ladies. On week days, however, but few of them are seen on the streets. A majority of the male population have remained in the city. A majority of the citizens have provisions for some time to come, but there is a scarcity of wood; but Gen. SHERMAN has announced that he will soon remedy this last difficulty, by getting wood via the Gulf Railway and hauling it to the citizens. No pass is allowed to any male person to go toward the city. The soldiers of SHERMAN'S army had contributed eleven hundred loaves of bread for the poor of the city.

A dispatch from Washington announces that the Richmond Enquirer of the 10th has the following paragraph: "A call is out for a convention of the Confederate States. The intention of the authors of the call is to revolutionize the revolution, to depose Mr. DAVIS, wipe out the Confederate Congress, appoint a dictator in his stead, and perhaps surrender to the enemy."

The late failure at Wilmington is to be investigated by the Committee on the Conduct of the War, and Gen. BUTLER is to be summoned as a witness.

The President is to nominate Gen. T. D. COX for a Major-Generalship.

Major-Gen. JOHN A. LOGAN has gone to Savannah to retake command of his old corps, now led by Gen. OSTERHAUS.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate, yesterday, a message from the President was read, and ordered to be printed, in relation to the agreement between the United States and Great Britain concerning the naval force on the lakes. The committee appointed to inquire if legislation was necessary to enable the President to call an extra session of Congress without giving sixty days' notice, have discovered that no notice is required. A resolution of inquiry into the cause of failure at Wilmington was adopted. The resolution to repeal the Reciprocity Treaty was taken up and debated. Messrs. HOWE, of Wisconsin, HALE, of New-Hampshire, and others spoke against, and Messrs. MORRILL, FOOTE and DOOLITTLE in favor of, the motion to repeal. A motion to refer the matter to the Judiciary Committee was lost. The yeas and nays were then called on the passage of the resolution, which was adopted by a vote of 31 to 8. A resolution was adopted to investigate the charges against Col. CHIVINGTON, who is accused of extreme cruelty toward the Indians in Colorado.

In the House, a substitute for the bill to reorganize the rebel States was introduced, and ordered to be printed. The House then resumed the discussion of the proposed constitutional amendment. Speeches in favor of the amendment were made by Messrs. SMITH of Kentucky, WOODBRIDGE of Vermont, and THAYER of Pennsylvania. Mr. COX argued against making such a radical amendment while the country was in a state of war, although he did not question the power to make it.

STATE LEGISLATURE.

In the Senate, yesterday, Mr. FOLGER reported the State Bounty Bill. It allows $300 for one-year men, $400 for two-years' men, and $600 for three-years' men, and prohibits all local bounties. The majority of the committee favor the raising of the whole of the indebtedness thus to be created this year by taxation. The minority of the committee favor borrowing the amount of money required, the same to be paid within eighteen years. The opinion of the Attorney-General on the legality of this proposed indebtedness was ordered to be obtained. The bill to repeal the fare restriction in the Railroad Consolidation Act was introduced. The argument in the contested seat case was then resumed, and continued until the recess.

In the Assembly, yesterday, notice was given of bills to authorize the Board of Supervisors, of New-York, to raise money by tax: for a railroad in Broadway; and to regulate the price of gas in Brooklyn. Bills were introduced for the erection of a new capitol; for a railroad in Thirty-fourth-street, New-York. The reports of the Adjutant-General and of the Commissary-General of Ordnance were received. The bill to amend the Constitution with reference to the appointment of Commissioners of Appeals, was reported and passed. A dispatch was then read from Gov. FLETCHER, of Missouri, to Gov. FENTON, announcing Missouri as a Free State.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Gold Room was 3@4 ℘ cent, lower yesterday than on Wednesday. Sales 219@216½@219½ ℘ cent. Money easy. Government Stocks in demand. The Railways lower on Peace rumors.

General business was depressed, yesterday, by the decline in Gold. Breadstuffs, Provisions, Cotton, Petroleum and Tallow were heavy and cheaper. Whisky was in moderate demand. Groceries were quiet. Light Freight engagements was reported.

In the Court of Oyer and Terminer, yesterday, ELIZABETH SAVOKOA was arraigned upon an indictment for murder. Her counsel offered a plea of manslaughter in the third degree, which was accepted, and the prisoner was remanded for sentence. WILLIAM ACKERMAN, indicted for grand larceny, was called up for trial, but failed to appear, and his bail was forfeited.

In the Court of General Sessions yesterday, CHARLES KELLING, indicted for an assault of CHARLOTTE FISHER, in throwing vitriol upon her clothing, was tried and acquitted. DAVID DUFF plead guilty to forgery in the fourth degree, and was discharged. HUGH DENOW plead guilty to an assault, and was remanded for sentence.

The Hecker injunction against the Street Department came up yesterday, before Justice INGRAHAM, at Chambers of the Supreme Court, for argument on the motion to modify and dissolve. The proceedings were, however, interrupted for some little time by the attack of the mob on Mr. HECKER, as he was about to enter the court-house. Mr. HECKER was roughly handled, but finally escaped without serious injuries. The particulars are given in the law column.

The street sweepers yesterday assaulted Mr. JOHN HECKER, as he was passing through the Park on his way to court, knocked him down and cut his face and played at foot ball with his hat. Mr. HECKER was rescued by his friends and was afterward driven home.

The mails of the Moravian, from Portland, including files to the 30th ult., reached this city yesterday. The comments of the English press on the success of SHERMAN and THOMAS are both curious and interesting. Our files also contain the Pope's "Encyclical" letter in full.

From the report of the Superintendent of Sanitary Inspection it appears that the cost of removing ashes, manure and rubbish from the city during the past year has been $318,716, exclusive of the cleaning of the Twelfth Ward, where the work has been done by the day. This expenditure does not include the sweeping of the streets.

The steamship Arizona will be launched from Mr. STEEN'S yard, Greenpoint, at 11 A. M. to-morrow.

The Street Cleaning Commission met in the Mayor's office yesterday. The offer of the New-York Sanitary and Chemical Compost Company to clean the streets for $300,000 per annum was presented. The Commission decided that they had no power to accept it, as it was not sufficiently specific. Mr. WILLIAMSON, on behalf of the Company, said the offer had been misunderstood, and that the Company intended to remove the dirt, ashes and garbage, as well as sweep the streets. He also said that on Monday next the Company would submit amended specifications, and that for a somewhat larger sum than $300,000 they would not only sweep the streets, but empty the sinks and remove all dead animals beyond the city limits.

Postmasters are obliged to receive all Treasury notes for stamps and postages, if clearly genuine, no matter how torn or defaced they may be, provided one-twentieth part thereof be not missing—and fractional currency, if not one-tenth part be missing. Such notes and currency received as are unfit for reissue should be kept separate and distinct, and returned, as occasion requires, to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, in sums of not less than three dollars, to be exchanged for new.

Before the Metropolitan Police Commission, yesterday, a large number of patrolmen were tried upon various complaints; but there was no specially noteworthy trial, except that of Officer MCSWIGGAN, of the Fifteenth Precinct, for intoxication and making an unwarrantable arrest. Officer TENNANT, whose trial for drawing a pistol upon Capt. HART, of the Nineteenth Precinct, was noticed in last Sunday's TIMES, has been dismissed from the Department.

The Denver City News reports that Col. KIT CARSON, with a few of the companies of the First New-Mexico Cavalry, lately ran against a band of 1,000 Indians, Kiowas and Camanches, on Red River, south of the road from Fort Union to the States, and was badly repulsed. He had to fight his way back.

The new three-cent fractional currency will soon be issued by the Secretary of the Treasury.

By the bark Rechabite, Capt. LEEMAN, which arrived here yesterday, news was received of the total loss of the steamship Melville, bound from this port to Hilton Head. ALBERT L. BAYDON, one of the passengers on the steamer, was picked up at sea by Capt. HILTON, on the 8th inst. BAYDON had saved himself by clinging to a portion of the wreck. It appears from his statement that the vessel foundered on the 7th inst, with sixty-five passengers on board and a crew numbering sixteen. The brig Hornet also arrived last evening, with three of the ship's crew on board. All the rest are supposed to have perished. Vessel and cargo together were valued at $110,000.

The Australasian got afloat at 8½ o'clock Wednesday evening, and anchored at the Southwest Spit. She crossed the bar yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, bound for Liverpool.

Hon. THOMAS SWAN and Hon. C. C. COX, Governor and Lieutenant-Governor elect of Maryland, were duly inaugurated at Annapolis on the 11th, in conformity with the provisions of the new Constitution. The new Governor, however, does not enter upon his duties until January next, the expiration of the period for which Gov. BRADFORD was elected. The Lieutenant-Governor enters at once on his duties as President of the Senate.

A committee of the Brooklyn Board of Supervisors, who proceeded to Washington for the purpose of procuring a reduction of the quota, returned yesterday morning, with the assurance that the quota will be assigned according to the corrected enrollment lists.

A letter from E. A. ROLLINS, Deputy Commissioner of the Internal Revenue, announces, for the guidance of assessors, that the law requires the income lists to be kept open for the purpose of public inspection.

By an arrival from New-Orleans, yesterday, we have late files of papers, but they contain little or no news. Everything was quiet in the Department of the Gulf.

Rev. ARTHUR CLEVELAND COXE, D. D., was consecrated on the 4th inst., at Geneva, to the Office of Assistant Bishop of the Diocese of Western New-York.

The Eighth Annual Ball of the New-York Caledonian Club took place last evening, at the City Assembly Rooms. The rooms were dressed with American flags, the banners of the club, and the war-worn colors of the veteran Seventy-ninth Regiment Highlanders. The rooms were also well filled. The members of the club appeared in the national costumes. Enjoyment was everywhere visible, and the festivities were kept up until a late hour.

THE POPE'S NEW BULL.—By the European mail which arrived yesterday we have the text of a Bull which has just been issued from the Vatican at Rome, under the sign and seal apostolic of His Holiness the Pope. The letter denounces the pernicious writings of those who seek to overturn the foundations of the Catholic religion. Addressing the Bishops and clergy throughout the world, His Holiness reminds them that the promulgation of evil doctrines have excited "a horrible storm." He refers to former encyclical letters and allocutions in which he felt bound to denounce "the monstrous opinions which particularly predominate in the present day;" but as these letters and allocutions have not produced the desired effect, His Holiness makes this new appeal. Especially does he dwell with fervor on what he considers the false prevailing notions as to the relation of civil Government to the Church. Thus, he says, for example, that,

> "There are many who do not hesitate to affirm 'that the best condition of society is that in which the power of the laity is not compelled to inflict the penalties of law upon violators of the Catholic religion, unless required by considerations of public safety.' Actuated by an idea of social government so absolutely false, they do not hesitate further to propagate this erroneous opinion, very hurtful to the safety of the Catholic Church and of souls, and termed delirium by our predecessor, GREGORY XVI., of excellent memory, viz.: 'Liberty of conscience and of worship is the right of every man, a right which ought to be proclaimed and established by law in every well constituted State; and that citizens are entitled to make known and declare, with a liberty which neither the ecclesiastical nor the civil authority can limit, their convictions, of whatever kind, either by word of mouth or through the press, or by other means.' But in making these rash assertions, they do not reflect, they do not consider that they preach the liberty of perdition, (St. Augustine, Epistle 105, al. 166;) and that 'if it is always free to human conviction to discuss, men will never be wanting who dare to struggle against the truth, and to rely upon the loquacity of human wisdom, when we know by the example of our Lord Jesus Christ how faith and Christian sagacity ought to avoid this very culpable vanity.'"

The prevalence of such beliefs as the Pope herein denounces, no one with his eyes open can doubt. It has become an exceedingly hard task, even in Italy, to "inflict the penalties of the law upon violators of the Catholic religion." It is a harder task still, we believe, on this continent, not even excluding Mexico, where the brother of the "Eldest Son of the Church" is making quite free already with what remains of the property of the Jesuists and other religious orders. A large portion of the letter is occupied with denunciations of those who dare to secularize the property of the Church; and secular pamphlets, journals and books are promiscuously condemned. But, in spite of all the superabounding evil, the letter proceeds thus toward the conclusion:

> "By these letters, emanating from our Apostolic authority, we grant to all and each of the faithful of both sexes throughout the universe, a plenary indulgence during one month, up to the end of the year 1865, and not longer."

The Question of Negotiation.

The idea of JEFFERSON DAVIS negotiating himself out of existence, or allowing himself to be negotiated out of existence, as President of the Southern Confederacy, is one which must be hard of entertainment by those who comprehend his character, or who have studied his rebellious career as it has appeared in his speeches, proclamations and deeds during the last four years; or who have noted the desperate expedients and projects he himself has set forth within a short time. If DAVIS has any prominent characteristics, they are self-possession, determination, energy—a self-possession not to be affected by any event or circumstance, or course of events or combination of circumstances—a determination which will scruple at nothing whatever to compass its ends—an energy remorseless and unflagging, capable of executing, under any circumstances, whatsoever is dictated by necessity or his judgment. In the greatest stress of fortune, he has never given any sign of the least yielding; and, whoever among the rebels might at any moment be discouraged, he has always stood imperious and firm, hurling maledictions and defiance, and backing up his most desperately ferocious words by still more fiendishly ferocious deeds. He has had concentrated in his hands all the power that exists in the South; and over and again has he sworn that to the end, and to the last extremity, would he use all that power for the accomplishment of the purposes for which this great rebellion was projected, and has been for four years prosecuted. He has wielded and now wields those powers with a skill which even his enemies must pronounce consummate.

It is true that those powers are rapidly being exhausted. But we need not deceive ourselves by fancying that they are not still great. SHERMAN bears witness in the dispatch from him which we gave yesterday, that there are abundant supplies for armies in all parts of the Confederacy; and of the magnitude of the main army under LEE, and of the numerous troops and garrisons he has elsewhere, we have too many proofs. He has tried many desperate expedients; but the proposition he has just made to arm the negroes shows that he has still other expedients left. While things are thus, we expect to receive neither propositions for the surrender of his army, or the existence of the Confederacy, or his own power.

If there is any one thing, however, which JEFFERSON DAVIS might be supposed at this moment to desire above all other things, it is a brief cessation of the storm of war. We have just closed two campaigns more destructive to him than any former campaigns of the war—campaigns which have destroyed his Western army and cut off all his territory beyond the Savannah. And yet both these campaigns have ended with the great armies of SHERMAN and THOMAS in such a state of strength that each of them is ready to enter on other campaign. Hostilities were never carried on with greater vigor and activity than in the last two months, and the next three bid fair to show equal energy, and promise equal success. There is nothing so important to us as that this activity should undergo no diminution—that the rebels should not be granted their usual annual respite; and there is nothing so important to DAVIS' rebellion, as that he should secure a respite such as other Winters have given him. They have always used it hitherto to gather up their stragglers and deserters, reorganize their armies, enforce their conscriptions, accumulate stores at their depots, issue clothing to their men, and fortify their roads and towns; so that we have generally found that in Spring they had things in order for offence or defence. We do not believe that, were they given the opportunity, these devices would prove sufficient to avert the doom of the Confederacy; but they might prove effectual in postponing it; they might give us another Summer's fighting to do, cause the loss of a great many valuable lives, and the addition of one or two hundred millions to the national debt.

If the Richmond rebels have really and seriously concluded to have a conference on peace at this time with us, we may be sure that the first condition they would demand would be a temporary "cessation of hostilities," pending the issue of negotiations; and we may be equally sure that they would make good use of their opportunity. Let us not waste time, but let GRANT, SHERMAN and THOMAS prosecute the work they have in hand; and we but agree with Gen. GRANT in believing that, under these terms, a few more months will give us complete success and peace.

The Loss of the Steamer Melville—Disasters at Sea.

Following close upon the loss of the transport North America and its two hundred passengers, we have to chronicle to-day another disaster scarcely less heart-sickening, in the foundering of the steamship Melville, bound hence for Hilton Head. In both cases the record is the old stereotyped story of the boats being either launched too late, launched too hurriedly, or monopolized by the crew, to the utter and total disregard of the lives of the men, women and children registered as passengers.

To emphasize these horrible reports seems almost a waste alike of words and of newspaper space. But we will venture to give the story of the Melville wreck in a digested form, so that those who care to think at all on the subject of maritime casualties may count the risks they undergo in a sound coasting steamer, supposed to be well commanded, well manned, well provisioned, thoroughly provided with long boats, small boats, and life boats, and to be in every respect a safe conveyance.

The transport Melville cleared from New-York on the 5th inst., for Hilton Head, and made her way with moderate ease against strong head winds until the 7th. About 9 on the evening of that day (Saturday last) the Melville was struck by a heavy sea, which stove in her bows. The Captain immediately ordered a boat to be lowered. Into that boat he himself was the first to get, along with the Chief Engineer, the cook of the vessel, a seaman, and such of the more hardy of the passengers as could venture after them. This boat was swamped. Probably, the brave Captain and his Chief Engineer—the two officers who should have been the last to leave the disabled steamer, were lost with it. At all events, the passengers were left to shift for themselves on the wreck, as best they could, with such of the subordinate officers and seamen as either volunteered to remain on board, or were unable to follow their master. By strenuous and apparently undirected exertions, the passengers seem to have succeeded in keeping the ill-fated vessel afloat during the whole of that terrible night, which even here on land our citizens will remember as one of the stormiest for many months. Bailing with buckets, and using every expedient which their desperate situation suggested, they kept the hulk afloat till eleven o'clock on Sunday morning. At that hour a metallic life-boat, which still remained to them, was lowered, and a few of the male passengers, with one or two females, seem to have got into it; but the most of the ladies and children, unable to help themselves, were left to their fate, which was suddenly determined. The life-boat had not parted from the steamer before the latter tumbled over and went down like a lump of lead, carrying all on board with it, and at the same time upsetting the life-boat.

The survivor who tells the tale is one of those who were in the life-boat, but escaped by clinging to a piece of the wreck. He professes to believe that he saw three passengers, two gentlemen and one lady, in the boat after it righted. But this part of his story is not peculiarly clear. We would fain believe, indeed, that there may be mitigating features in the case which the relator was either unwilling or unable to depict. But we can see no reason to doubt the main statement, that the Captain of the Melville and the Chief Engineer treacherously deserted the vessel; and left those intrusted to their care to the chances that might befall them.

Such cases are becoming of far too common occurrence. Sufficient small boat provision is seldom, if ever, made in these coasting steamers, looking to the number of passengers they carry. And week after week we are reminded that even where the means of rescue from a wreck are sufficient, the absence of discipline, the heartlessness of a commander, and a variety of inexcusable acts of different degrees of criminality, interfere with everything like an honest provision for the public safety. The evil is one which calls loudly for thorough and efficient action. It is needless to point to the number of commanders of high standing in the transport and merchant steamship service. The very fact that good men can be had is the most damning evidence against those who employ an irresponsible and reckless set of skippers. Surely there ought to be some cognizance taken of these recurring horrors. Is there no one to be brought to account?

CARRYING CONCEALED WEAPONS. — The thanks of the community will be due to the Police Justices if they carry out the resolution to which, it is said, they have come, of dealing summarily with persons carrying or attempting to use concealed weapons. This practice is at the bottom of most of the cuttings, shootings and murders of which we now present nearly every day such an odious and disgraceful record. Policemen now make every arrest, for even trifling offences, at the risk of their lives; and it is impossible to resent, even in words, any outrage or insolence committed by the great army of ruffians with which the metropolis abounds, without exposing one's self to instant assassination. And, what is less to be regretted, a quarrel hardly ever occurs between the thieves and bullies of the grog-shops, which does not end in a homicide. It is very rare, indeed, to hear of a life being taken in a city with such apparent coolness and unconcern and such complete apparent indifference to consequences, as that of HARRY LAZARUS, who, though one of a class whose very existence is a danger to our civilization, was still under the protection of the law.

What renders the necessity for prompt measures of repression all the greater, is, that we do not see all the consequences of these disorders in the list of homicides and felonious assaults. The effect of this incessant bloodshed on the imagination of the young, and of the ignorant, is far greater than most respectable people imagine. Not one of these sanguinary brawls occurs that does not lead dozens of boys to procure pistols and knives, and render dozens of ruffians readier and more eager than ever to take part in a fray of the same kind. The value of human life is thus lowered in popular estimation, and the popular sense of decency and humanity is blunted, and the seed is sown broadcast for future harvests of crime.

IMPORTANT TO AMERICANS NATURALIZED IN BRITISH COLONIES.—The British Government has caused it to be officially announced through the Embassy at Washington that Americans, who have become naturalized subjects of the Queen in the colonies, are not entitled to British protection beyond the provincial lines. This is not an unexpected decision. But its operation at this crisis of affairs might produce some queer results. The Queen has one or two American denationalized citizens in her Councils to-day. One of them is Treasurer of all the Crown moneys in the neighboring Province. If he came here, and were to be drafted, what then? A Crown Minister high private in front of Petersburgh! And why not?

A "SOLDIERS' REST" AT THE NEW-HAVEN DEPOT.—The necessity of providing some means for making comfortable the soldiers who have to spend long, weary hours in waiting for the train at the New-Haven Railroad Depot, has induced some of our philanthropic citizens to make an effort to supply this want. Col. GEORGE BLISS, Jr., informs us that a convenient building has been engaged, and an association of experienced ladies are ready to take charge of it as soon as it is fitted up. Contributions for this object may be sent to Col. BLISS, whose well-known character is a sufficient guarantee for their proper application.

☞ In discussing the administration of criminal justice in this State, a few days ago, we fell into the error of overlooking the repeal of the statute which gave the Governor discretionary power in the issue of death-warrants. It is no longer in existence, and the law now stands as it did previous to 1860.

HUMOROUS LECTURE.—Prof. DUBOIS, the "Funny Frenchman," gave the first of his entertaining entertainments last evening, and gives another to-night at Dodworth Hall, Broadway. The Professor is probably the funniest man or Frenchman extant. His account of the difficulties which a Gaul finds in his efforts to speak our barbarous language, is not only amusing, but instructive; and his narrative of the "tribulations, vexations, mortifications and humiliations" he suffered in speaking broken English in America, would make the listener weep if he could possibly stop laughing. The lecturer very nearly succeeds in making the faces of all his hearers as rotund and jovial as his own—which is saying a good deal; and thereby they get their money's worth.

FROM CITY POINT.

Continued Influx of Rebel Refugees—Extraordinary Party of Them—A Meg Merrilies—Gross Ignorance and Delusions—Another Deserter Hung—Ex-Gov. Brown, of Massachusetts—Irregularity in the Mails—Rumors about Lee.

From Our Own Correspondent.

CITY POINT, Va., Sunday, Jan. 8, 1865.

I don't know whether or not it is a studied scheme of the Richmond autocrat to send all his useless people out of his lines to be fed by us, but certainly the large number of helpless women and children who have, for a long time past, been leaving Petersburgh and Richmond, and who continue still to pour in upon us, tend to give a strong coloring to the suspicion.

Yesterday the mail took off, bound to Baltimore a number of the most wretched, poverty-stricken, degraded looking set of creatures that my eyes ever rested on, in the shape of human beings, accustomed though one's sight has necessarily become to human misery in almost every shape that can be engendered by the horrors of war. It appears that these unfortunate people were located in the Poorhouse of Prince George County, a place so awkwardly situated between the two lines, that although we have literally kept them from famishing for months past, our rations could only be so precariously supplied that they actually ran the risk of starvation. Knowing that, as they were not capable of being made food for gunpowder, they might stay and rot there before they would receive any care from the rebel authorities, Brig.-Gen. PATRICK, our Provost-Marshal, with the proper feelings of humanity, had them brought into our lines and forwarded to the almshouses of the North.

This party consisted of seven women, five children and two young men,—one of the latter a disgusting-looking idiot. Of the seven women, three were tottering under extreme old age, and two were perfectly idiotic. As these people, in a cold drenching rain, reached the boats of the United States Sanitary Commission—(the hospitable refuge of every one in need, from the weather-bound General or weary-footed soldier to the timid refugee just escaped from the toils of his oppressors)—the scene they presented, as they eagerly clustered, in their dripping garments, around the gleaming stove, was worthy of the moral pencil of a HOGARTH. One figure among them—that of a tall, gaunt, raw-boned, idiotic woman, in ragged skirts high above her monstrous ankles and elephantine feet, and whose sex it was at first difficult to determine,—was so truly extraordinary, that the cry of "Meg Merrilies!" simultaneously escaped two or three present. And, sure enough, even SCOTT himself never imagined such a portrayal of the character he has immortalized, nor did CHARLOTTE CUSHMAN ever approach it in representation, as that haggard creature did who sat there, crouching and warming her long masculine fingers before the fire, scowling around at the people about her, and gibbering from her huge livid mouth: "I'm amost froze, gie me a pipe, somebody." A pipe was brought her, which she commenced smoking eagerly, and shortly afterward, on being offered some chewing tobacco, she thrust a quantity of the latter into her mouth, chewing and smoking vehemently at the same time, and squirting the brown juice in showers around her. The picture was as pitiful as it was disgusting. When they sat down to feed, like a pack of famishing wolves, this same woman, as if almost maddened by the sight of plentiful food, commenced by seizing a lot of crackers in both hands and concealed them in her bosom, as if afraid of not getting enough at table.

One would imagine that to such wretches the contrast between the life they have hitherto led and that into which they are now beneficently placed, would appear as great as that between hell and Heaven. Wonderful to relate, it does not so impress them. So steeped are they in the brutal ignorance that has surrounded them through a whole life-time, that a nameless horror seemed to seize them at the bare thought of going further north among the "Yankees;" and in spite of all the kindly faces around them, the physical comforts being showered upon them in exchange for the misery they had just left, and all the other evidences of being safely among friends, some still clung to the notion of going back to die in "Ole Virginny," because the Yankees "would treat them bad and take their children from them." All expostulations and assurances were useless in dispelling this strange illusion, and when the hour came for them to depart by the mail-boat, the scene was truly affecting. Had these poor, deluded creatures been going to mount the scaffold, they could not have exhibited more anguish and trepidation than in crossing the gang-plank from the wharf to the deck. The women all sobbed aloud; those with children clung despairingly to them, as if some monster were about to wrench them, even then, from their grasp, and the most aged among them seemed hardly able to gather strength enough to take, what doubtless they had been well taught to believe, this final leap into everlasting perdition.

I said the scene was affecting; but one feature completely redeemed it in my sight. There were little children—God bless them!—in that crowd. They, too, were sad and suffering, because their elders were; but as I gazed upon their innocent little faces—(by the way, it is quite remarkable what pretty and intelligent countenances most of these children have, in spite of the gross stock from which they spring)—I could not help thinking to myself, in substance: "Ah, little ones, whatever your ignorant parents may think of the matter, the time will come when you will thank God and bless the good, kind people who sent that dreadful boat to carry you away from your benighted and slavery-polluted old shanty in Virginia, to train your yet untainted young hearts and minds in the genial atmosphere of honest labor and free institutions."

Another deserter, a private of the Fifth New-Hampshire, was hung to-day, and several more are on trial, their crimes, unfortunately, but too capable of proof, and who will, necessarily, meet the same horrid fate. It is so recently since I gave my views in full, respecting the abominable system which has its natural termination in these painful and disgraceful results, that I need not at present enlarge upon the subject. Every day, however, convinces me more and more that the country cannot be too alive to the abominable practices now going on in the enlistment of soldiers, upon the substitute and bounty system, and it is to be earnestly hoped that the loyal press of the country everywhere will take up the question, and give it a thorough ventilating. Nobody can imagine the monstrous villainies that are being daily perpetrated in connection with the system, but those who have taken the trouble to inquire into the working of it; and now that it is proposed to increase the already enormous bounties offered, it is not at all unlikely that existing abuses will increase instead of diminish.

Ex-Gov. SIMEON BROWN, of Massachusetts, is here on a tour of inspection respecting the working of the Sanitary Commission among the army. He has had abundant opportunities afforded him for a thorough and careful examination of all connected with the institution, and expresses himself delighted with all he has witnessed.

Owing to the frost in the Potomac, and other causes, the utmost irregularity has recently prevailed in the mail connections between this and Washington. At the early part of the week, we were two days in succession without any mails or papers from New-York, and if we hear from your village every other day, we shall begin now to feel very contented. This very unpleasant state of things is laid all on the weather. I only hope the weather is not receiving more blame in the matter than it justly deserves.

All remains quiet in front, although rumors begin to float about that LEE is contemplating some movement or other, but what that movement is no outsiders can imagine. Perhaps it is the one that is to "astonish the world." Whatever it be, I think LEE will find GRANT prepared. J. R. HAMILTON.

FROM NEW-ORLEANS.

The Cultivation of Cotton—Interesting Statistics.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

NEW-ORLEANS, Wednesday, Dec. 28, 1864.

Business with this Department is quite lively just now. Three months since the planters were requested to make returns of the amount of wages due the conscripts taken from their plantations, but the army-worm has made such havoc with the princely fortunes which all cotton-speculators had in prospect that a new phase has been developed in the character of many who have hitherto been considered paragons of honor, and letters from the Superintendent of the Bureau and an order from the Provost-Marshal General became measures of necessity to recover the just claims of the conscript. Since the distribution of this order there has been a general movement of funds toward the grand centre of deposit, and by the 1st of January it is expected that all the accounts now remaining due will have been settled, and the money earned by the drafted laborers who are now bearing the musket for their country, will be paid to them by the Superintendent of this Bureau in due season.

The orders of Gen. BANKS upon the labor system necessary to close the accounts for the year, are being rigidly enforced. In settling with the conscripts the Superintendent has accepted no accounts made out for less than half the wages for the time worked and the same rule will be observed in the final settlement with the laborers at the close of the year.

The number of plantations worked under the new regulations is 1,073, and all admit that had it not been for the devastations of the army-worm, the value of the cotton that would have been received at this port this year would have exceeded that of the entire agricultural products of the whole State for any year in the past.

The following statistics, taken from the records of this office may be interesting to your readers: Number of hands reported, 18,189; number of hands not reported, 6,811; probable number working for part of the crop and otherwise, 10,000. Total, 35,000. Number of first-class hands, at $8 per month, 8,000, number of second-class hands, at $6 per month, 6,000; number of third-class hands, at $5 per month, 5,500; number of fourth-class hands, at $3 per month, 5,500; number interested in the crop and otherwise, 10,000, average pay per man per month, $5 72; amount of wages per month, $201,200; amount of wages per year, $2,414,400.

This estimate of wages earned by the laborers for the year is based upon the supposition that there has been no lost time. The returns thus far received show that the average amount of lost time will not exceed one-third. Deducting from $2,414,400 one-third of the same, $804,800, there remains $1,609,600, which is the sum earned by the freedmen of this department for the present year. In addition to this they have been furnished with quarters, food and clothing for themselves and their families, with medicines and medical attendance, and have had parcels of land to cultivate on their own account, and instances have come under my own observation where, from the proceeds of the crop raised upon the land allotted for their own use, the freedmen have realized from $100 to $300 each. Beside all this, nearly 8,000 colored children are now enjoying the benefits of the schools established by General Orders No. 38.

What will the enemies of our system of compensated labor at the North, who asserted "that the little earned would never be paid," now say in view of these stubborn facts? W. B. S.

The Income Lists.

THE LAW REQUIRES THEM TO BE OPEN TO INSPECTION.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
WASHINGTON, Dec. 30, 1864.

SIR: Yours of the 29th inst., asking permission to inspect the income lists in the possession of Assessors for the purpose of publication has been received.

In reply, I have to say that by the provisions of the law the lists of income tax must be open to the inspection of any and all persons applying for that purpose. I have, therefore, instructed those Assessors seeking information on this subject, that it was their duty to afford every facility which was consistent with the proper discharge of the business of their offices for the examination of such lists for the purpose of publication. Very respectfully,

E. A. ROLLINS, Deputy Commissioner,

JOSEPH KELLY, Esq., No. 113 Fulton-street, New-York.

SPIRIT OF THE PRESS.

THE FORTUNE OF THE WAR IN FAVOR OF THE FEDERALS.

From the London Times Dec. 29.

In the American contest the fortune of war has again favored the cause of the Federals. The year is likely to end with one of those successes which keep up the spirits of the Northern people and urge them to persist in the task they have undertaken. Where SHERMAN will come out is no longer a matter of doubt. With no little skill and daring he has pushed across the State of Georgia, and made his way to its chief city. * * * * * * *

Fort M'Allister stands on the Sound, and its possession was, no doubt, aimed at by SHERMAN through a belief that it would enable him to isolate the city as he pleases. The capture of this place is the last piece of authentic news which we have received, but there is a rumor more important still—namely, that after a battle which lasted eight hours SHERMAN had captured Savannah itself, with 11,000 prisoners. If this be true it is undoubtedly a serious blow to the Confederates, not only depriving them of one of their remaining coast cities, but as opening the way for the most cherished enterprise of the North, the capture of Charleston. The resistance of the Georgians to this invasion has not been sufficient to prevent its success. It may not be possible to hold down so vast a tract, for Georgia in itself is as large as England and Wales, and this immense extent of the territory to be occupied is the standing difficulty of the Federal plan of conquest; but the North will at least have shown to the world that its armies are able to traverse at their will the most populous and long-settled regions of the Confederacy, and this conviction must have a powerful effect in inducing a zealous prosecution of the war. If Savannah be not yet taken, it will be besieged, and the operations before it will probably give rise to the most important military incidents of the Winter. * * *

From Tennessee, also, there is news unfavorable to the Confederate cause, though we cannot think it equal in importance to that from Georgia. Gen. HOOD, who in spite of his late defeat had pressed upon the Federals and shut up their army in Nashville, has, according to Northern accounts, been defeated with great loss by his opponent, Gen. THOMAS. That commander reports that he attacked the Confederates, and drove them a considerable distance, capturing from 3,000 to 5,000 prisoners and from 30 to 40 cannon. HOOD's army, it is said, was routed. We must wait some days longer before we can judge of the true value of this victory. It will be remembered that the battle of Franklin, which was also described as a Federal victory, did not prevent Gen. HOOD pressing on his opponent till he took refuge behind his works at Nashville. The last battle may be more effective against the Confederates, but for this to be the case it must at least drive them from the neighborhood of the chief town of Tennessee. As long as HOOD is strong enough to maintain a position there, the region, which is strongly Southern in feeling, cannot be looked upon as gained to the Northern cause. But on the whole the events of the last month show that though the North is woefully short of men to occupy and hold down the South, the Confederates in some parts are scarcely able to oppose even these diminished levies. We shall hear of new expeditions and new marches through the Southern country, but whether these will have such permanent military consequences as to overcome the obstinacy of Southern resistance is a matter which time must show.

What concerns us most nearly in the news just received is the tone which the Americans have assumed toward Canada, and the acts of their Government with respect to the late disorders on the frontier. With respect to these mischievous and fruitless expeditions there can be but one opinion in England. It is the duty of the Canadian Government to prevent any such outrages, and to bring the offenders to justice; and we rejoice to learn that the Attorney-General had ordered the rearrest of the St. Albans "raiders," on the ground that the decision of the Montreal Court was wrong. But a failure of justice on technical grounds does not authorize such military orders as those of Gen. DIX, who commands his officers to violate the Canadian territory, nor such language as that used by the American press, and, seemingly, by American society. The outrage at St. Albans was barbarous in the extreme, and we are sure there is not one person in a hundred in England or Canada who would not be glad to see the perpetrators dealt with according to their deserts. But the threats of the Americans will not aid in producing this result. Mere boasting we need not notice, but if the Federal Government is so ill-advised as to send its troops across the Canadian frontier, very serious misunderstandings between the two countries may be the consequence.

THE SUCCESS OF SHERMAN AND THE ROUT OF HOOD—CANADA.

From the London News, Dec. 29.

The American intelligence contained in our columns this morning may be considered, as regards the questions which for the last month have been of most pressing interest, as of a decisive character. It reports at once the admitted safety, if not yet the success of SHERMAN, and the rout of HOOD. * * *

That these achievements should have altogether turned away the attention of the public from the result of the liberation of the "raiders" in Canada, was, however, not to be expected. There is, in the comments of the American papers on the subject, some of that hasty generalization of which our own press has not been guiltless, in which the unauthorized and unapproved act of an individual is imputed to the nation and to the Government. Gen. DIX, who is in command of the military defence, has reissued a formal order, authorizing his troops to shoot any persons who may attempt to make again such an attempt, and if they should escape, to pursue and seize them in Canada. The former part of the order we are not concerned with, though we may observe that it is one fully justifiable if the "raiders" are regarded as belligerents, but quite contrary to law and custom if they are looked upon as mere robbers. The second part of the order we may hope will not be sanctioned by the superior civil authority. That plea which could alone warrant it—the refusal of the Canadian Government to administer justice and observe the duties of allies—has happily no foundation in fact. The Ministry has, on the contrary, lost no time in disavowing the decision of Judge COURSOL. The Attorney-General has issued fresh warrants, and the police are again endeavoring to arrest the discharged criminals. The Government is reported to have already appointed stipendiary magistrates on the frontier, expressly to take cognizance of the breaches of international law, and to have furnished them with sufficient police force to support their authority. The Legislature has also been summoned to meet on the 19th of January. These measures will probably, as soon as they are known to the American public, suffice to remove a natural irritation. But we must repeat that their vigorous execution is a duty we owe to ourselves even more than to our neighbors. We are bound to show the example of doing as we would be done by, and as we have in former times uttered keen remonstrances, and even resorted to actual force, when an enemy used neutral soil to prepare machinations against us, it is imperative that we should now vindicate our fair dealing and maintain our friendly character by prohibiting absolutely the abuse of our protection for the purpose of directing treacherous violence against the inhabitants of a bordering and allied State. We should expect France to do thus much for us if we were unhappily at war with America, and Americans plotted and directed from Calais expeditions to sack Brighton or burn Hastings. And it is clear that what we should regard as the duty of France in such a case, would be still more her duty if the war were made upon our seaboard, not by a foreign nation, but by our own subjects in revolt. This is the American case at present, and there must be no hesitation in our doing to them the justice which we should look for from every friendly Power if the case were our own.

THE POPE'S ENCYCLICAL.

ROME, Wednesday, Dec. 21.

The following is the full text of the Pope's Encyclical Letter of the 8th inst.:

To our venerable brethren all the Patriarchs, Primates, Archbishops, and Bishops in communion with the Apostolic See, we, Pius IX., Pope, send greeting, and our apostolic blessing:

You know, venerable brethren, with what care and what pastoral vigilance the Roman Pontiffs, our predecessors—fulfilling the charge entrusted to them by our Lord Jesus Christ himself in the person of the blessed Peter, chief of the apostles—have unfailingly observed their duty in providing food for the sheep and the lambs, in assiduously nourishing the flock of the Lord with the words of faith, in imbuing them with salutary doctrine, and in turning them away from poisoned pastures; all this is known to you, and you have appreciated it. And certainly our predecessors, in affirming and in vindicating the august Catholic faith, truth, and justice, were never animated in their care for the salvation of souls by a more earnest desire than that of extinguishing and condemning by their letters and their constitutions all the heresies and errors which, as enemies of our Divine faith, of the doctrines of the Catholic Church, of the purity of morals, and of the eternal salvation of man, have frequently excited serious storms, and precipitated civil and Christian society into the most deplorable misfortunes. For this reason our predecessors have opposed themselves with vigorous energy to the criminal enterprise of those wicked men, who, spreading their disturbing opinions like the waves of a raging sea, and promising liberty when they are slaves to corruption, endeavor by their pernicious writings to overturn the foundations of the Christian Catholic religion and of civil society; to destroy all virtue and justice; to deprave all minds and hearts; to turn away simple minds, and especially those of inexperienced youth, from the healthy discipline of morals; to corrupt it miserably, to draw it into the meshes of error, and finally to draw it from the bosom of the Catholic Church.

But as you are aware, venerable brethren, we had scarcely been raised to the chair of St. Peter above our merits, by the mysterious designs of Divine Providence, than seeing with the most profound grief of our soul the horrible storm excited by evil doctrines, and the very grave and deplorable injury caused specially by so many errors to Christian people, in accordance with the duty of our apostolic ministry, and following in the glorious footsteps of our predecessors, we raised our voice, and by the publication of several encyclicals, consistorial letters, allocutions, and other apostolical letters, we have condemned the principal errors of our sad age, reanimated your utmost episcopal vigilance, warned and exhorted upon various occasions all our dear children in the Catholic Church to repel and absolutely avoid the contagion of so horrible a plague. More especially in our first encyclical of the 9th November, 1846, addressed to you, and in our two allocutions of the 9th December, 1854, and the 9th June, 1862, to the consistories, we condemned the monstrous opinions which particularly predominate in the present day, to the great prejudice of souls and to the detriment of civil society—doctrines which not only attack the Catholic Church, her salutary instruction, and her venerable rights, but also the natural, unalterable law inscribed by God upon the heart of man—that of sound reason.

But although we have not hitherto omitted to proscribe and reprove the principal errors of this kind, yet the cause of the Catholic Church, the safety of the souls which have been confided to us, and the well-being of human society itself absolutely demand that we should again exercise our pastoral solicitude to destroy new opinions which spring out of these same errors as from so many sources. These false and perverse opinions are the more detestable as they especially tend to shackle and turn aside the salutary force that the Catholic Church, by the example of her Divine author and his order, ought freely to exercise until the end of time, not only with regard to each individual man, but with regard to nations, peoples, and their rulers, and to destroy that agreement and concord between the priesthood and the Government which have always existed for the happiness and security of religious and civil society. For as you are well aware, venerable brethren, there are a great number of men in the present day who, applying to civil society the impious and absurd principle of naturalism, as it is called, dare to teach that the perfect right of public society and civil progress absolutely require a condition of human society constituted and governed without regard to all considerations of religion, as if it had no existence, or, at least, without making any distinction between true religion and heresy. And, contrary to the teaching of the Holy Scriptures, of the church, and of the fathers, they do not hesitate to affirm that the best condition of society is that in which the power of the laity is not compelled to inflict the penalties of law upon violators of the Catholic religion unless required by considerations of public safety. Actuated by an idea of social government so absolutely false, they do not hesitate further to propogate the erroneous opinion, very hurtful to the safety of the Catholic Church and of souls, and termed "delirium" by our predecessor GREGORY XVI. of excellent memory, viz.: "Liberty of conscience and of worship is the right of every man—a right which ought to be proclaimed and established by law in every well-constituted State, and that citizens are entitled to make known and declare, with a liberty which neither the ecclesiastical nor the civil authority can limit, their convictions, of whatever kind, either by word of mouth or through the press, or by other means." But in making these rash assertions they do not reflect, they do not consider, that they preach the liberty of perdition, (St. Augustine, Epistle 105, Al. 166,) and that "if it is always free to human conviction to discuss, men will never be wanting who dare to struggle against the truth and to rely upon the loquacity of human wisdom, when we know by the example of our Lord Jesus Christ how faith and Christian sagacity ought to avoid this culpable vanity." (St. Leon, Epistle 164, Al. 133, sec. 2, Boll. Ed.)

Since also religion has been banished from civil government, since the doctrine and authority of divine revelation have been repudiated, the idea intimately connected therewith of justice and human right is obscured by darkness and lost sight of, and in place of true justice and legitimate right brute force is substituted, which has permitted some, entirely oblivious of the plainest principles of sound reason, to dare to proclaim "that the will of the people, manifested by what is called public opinion or by other means, constitutes a supreme law superior to all divine and human right, and that accomplished facts in political affairs, by the mere fact of their having been accomplished, have the force of law." But who does not perfectly see and understand that human society, released from the ties of religion and true justice, can have no further object than to amass riches, and can follow no other law in its actions than the indomitable wickedness of a heart given up to pleasure and interest?

For this reason, also, these same men persecute with so relentless a hatred the religious orders, who have deserved so well of religion, civil society, and letters. They loudly declare that the orders have no right to exist, and in so doing make common cause with the falsehoods of the heretics. For, as taught by our predecessor of illustrious memory, PIUS VI., "the abolition of religious houses injures the state of public profession, and is contrary to the counsels of the Gospel, injures a mode of life recommended by the Church and in conformity with the Apostolic doctrine, does wrong to the celebrated founders whom we venerate upon the altar, and who constituted these societies under the inspiration of God." (Epistle to Cardinal DE LA ROCHEFOUCAULD, March 10, 1791.)

In their impiety these same persons pretend that citizens and the Church should be deprived of the opportunity of "openly receiving alms from Christian charity," and that the law forbidding "servile labor on account of divine worship" upon certain fixed days should be abrogated, upon the fallacious pretext that this opportunity and this law are contrary to the principles of political economy. Not content with eradicating religion from public society, they desire further to banish it from families and private life. Teaching and professing those most fatal errors of Socialism and Communism, they declare that "domestic society, or the entire family, derives its right of existence solely from civil law, whence it is to be concluded that from civil law descend all the rights of parents over their children, and above all, the right of instructing and educating them." By such impious opinions and machinations do these false spirits endeavor to eliminate the salutary teaching and influences of the Catholic Church from the instruction and education of youth, and to infect and miserably deprave by their pernicious errors and their vices, the pliant minds of youth. All those who endeavor to trouble sacred and public things, to destroy the good order of society, and to annihilate all divine and human rights, have always concentrated their criminal schemes, attention and efforts upon the manner in which they might above all deprave and delude unthinking youth, as we have already shown. It is upon the corruption of youth that they place all their hopes. Thus they never cease to attack the clergy, from whom have descended to us in so authentic manner the most certain records of history, and by whom such desirable benefit has been bestowed in abundance upon Christian and civil society and upon letters. They assail them in every shape, going so far as to say of the clergy in general—"that being the enemies of the useful sciences, of progress, and of civilization, they ought to be deprived of the charge of instructing and educating youth."

Others, taking up wicked errors many times condemned, presume with notorious impudence to submit the authority of the Church and of this Apostolic See, conferred upon it by God himself, to the judgment of civil authority, and to deny all the rights of this same Church and this See with regard to exterior order.

They do not blush to affirm that the laws of the Church do not bind the conscience if they are not promulgated by the civil power; that the acts and decrees of the Roman Pontiffs concerning religion and the Church require the sanction and approbation, or, at least, the assent, of the civil power, and that the Apostolic constitutions condemning secret societies, whether these exact, or do not exact, an oath of secrecy; and branding with anathema their secretaries and promoters, have no forces in those regions of the world where these associations are tolerated by the civil Government. It is likewise affirmed that the excommunications launched by the Council of Trent and the Roman Pontiffs against those who invade the possessions of the Church and usurp its rights, seek, in confounding the spiritual and temporal orders, to attain solely a terrestrial object; that the Church can decide nothing which may bind the consciences of the faithful in a temporal order of things; that the law of the Church does not demand that violations of sacred laws should be punished by temporal penalties; and that it is in accordance with sacred theology and the principles of public law to claim for the civil Government the property possessed by the churches, the religious orders, and other pious establishments.

And they have no shame in avowing openly and publicly the thesis, the principle of heretics from whom emanate so many errors and perverse opinions. They say:—"That the ecclesiastical power is not of right divine, distinct and independent from the civil power; and that no distinction, no independence of this kind can be maintained without the Church invading and usurping the essential rights of the civil power." Neither can we pass over in silence the audacity of those who, insulting sound doctrines, assert that "the judgments and decrees of the Holy See, whose object is declared to concern the general welfare of the Church, its rights, and its discipline, do not claim the acquaintance and obedience under pain of sin and loss of the Catholic profession, if they do not treat of the dogmas of faith and manners."

How contrary is this doctrine to the Catholic dogma of the full power divinely given to the sovereign Pontiff by our Lord Jesus Christ, to guide, to supervise, and govern the universal church, no one can fail to see and understand clearly and evidently.

Amid so great a diversity of depraved opinions we, remembering our apostolic duty, and solicitous before all things for our most holy religion, for sound doctrine, for the salvation of the souls confided to us, and for the welfare of human society itself, have considered the moment opportune to raise anew our apostolic voice. And therefore do we condemn and proscribe generally and particularly all the evil opinions and doctrines specially mentioned in this letter, and we wish that they may be held as rebuked, proscribed and condemned by all the children of the Catholic Church. But you know further, venerable brothers, that in our time insulters of every truth and of all justice and violent enemies of our religion have spread abroad other impious doctrines by means of pestilent books, pamphlets, and journals which, distributed over the surface of the earth, deceive the people and wickedly lie. You are not ignorant that in our day men are found who, animated and excited by the spirit of Satan, have arrived at that excess of impiety as not to fear to deny our Lord and Master Jesus Christ, and to attack his divinity with scandalous persistence. We cannot abstain from awarding you well-merited eulogies, venerable brothers, for all the care and zeal with which you have raised your episcopal voice against so great an impiety.

In the present letter, therefore, we speak to you with all our heart—to you who, called to partake our cares, are our greatest support in the midst of our very great grief, our joy and our consolation by reason of the excellent piety of which you give proof in maintaining religion, and the marvelous love, faith and discipline with which, united by the strongest and most affectionate ties to us and this Apostolic See, you strive to valiantly and accurately fulfill your grave episcopal ministry. We ought, then, to expect from your excellent pastoral zeal that, taking the sword of the spirit—that is to say, the Word of God—and strengthened by the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, you will watch with redoubled care that the faithful committed to your charge "abstain from evil pasturage, which Jesus Christ does not cultivate, because it was not sown by His Father." (St. Igna., M. ad. Philadelph., S. Lent., Epist. 156, Al. 126.) Never cease, then, to inculcate in the faithful that all true felicity proceeds for the men of our august religion, from its doctrine and practice, and that that people are happy who have the Lord with them. (Psalm 143.) Teach "that kingdoms rest upon the foundation of the faith (St. Celest, Lett. 22, and Syn. de Eph.,) and that nothing is so mortal, so prompt to engender every ill, so exposed to danger for those who think that it can alone suffice, as the free will which we received at birth, if we ask nothing further from the Lord—that is to say, if, forgetting our Author, we abjure His power, to show that we are free." And do not omit to teach "That the royal power has been established, not only to exercise the government of the world, but, above all, for the protection of the Church (S. Lent, Epist. 156, Al. 125,) and that here is nothing more profitable and more glorious for the Sovereigns of States and Kings than to leave the Catholic Church to exercise its laws, and not to permit any to attack it liberty. As our most wise and courageous predecessor, St. Felix, wrote to the Emperor Zeno: "It is certain that it is advantageous for the Sovereigns, when the cause of God is in the question, to submit their royal will, according to the established rules, to the priests of Jesus Christ, and not to impose their will upon them." (Pius VII., Epist. Encycl. Diu-satis.—15th May, 1800.)

It is always, but especially at present, your duty, venerable brothers, in the midst of the numerous calamities of the Church and of civil society—in view of the terrible conspiracy of our adversaries against the Catholic Church and our Apostolic See, and the great accumulation of errors—it is your duty, I say, before all, to go with faith to the Throne of Grace to obtain mercy and find fitting succor. We have, therefore, judged the moment to have come to excite the piety of all the faithful, in order that with us, and with you all, they may pray without ceasing to the Father, supplicating and beseeching him, fervently and humbly, for instruction and mercy, in order, also, that in the plenitude of their faith they may seek refuge in our Lord Jesus Christ, who has redeemed us with His divine blood; that by their multiplied efforts they may obtain from that burning heart, victim of its charity for us, the gift of drawing all by the bonds of His love; of inspiring all men inflamed by His holy love with the desire of living according to His heart, pleasing God in all things and fruitful in all good works.

But as there is no doubt that the prayers most agreeable to God are those of the men who approach him with a heart pure from all stain, we have thought it good to open to Christians, with a truly apostolical liberality, the heavenly treasures of the church confided to our dispensation, so that the faithful, more strongly drawn toward true piety and purified from the stain of their sins by the sacrament of penance, may more confidently offer up their prayers to God and obtain His mercy and grace.

By these letters, emanating from our apostolic authority, we grant to all and each of the faithful of both sexes, throughout the universe, a plenary indulgence during one month, up to the end of the year 1865, and not longer, to be carried into effect by you, venerable brethren, and the other legitimate ordinaries, in the form and manner laid down at the commencement of our Sovereign Pontificate, by our apostolic letters, issued as a brief, upon the 20th November, 1846, and sent to the whole Episcopate of the world, commencing with the words, "Arcano Divinæ Providentiæ consilio," and with the faculties given by us in those same letters. We desire, however, that all the prescriptions of our letters shall be observed, saving the exceptions we have declared admissible. We have come to this determination notwithstanding all which might be ordered to the contrary by special and individual mention, and which might be worthy of departure from that decision; but in order that every hesitation and difficulty should be removed, we have ordered that a copy of our letter should be again forwarded to you.

Let us implore, venerable brethren, from the bottom of our hearts and with all our souls, for the mercy of God. He has encouraged us so to do by saying: "I will not withdraw my mercy from them. Let us ask, and we shall receive, and if there is slowness or delay in its reception, because we have gravely offended, let us knock, because He opens to those who knock; for prayers, groans and tears, by means of which we must persist and remain, knock at the door," &c. (St. Cyprian, Epistle 11.) But in order that God may accede more easily to our prayers and our wishes, and to those of all his faithful servants, let us employ in all confidence as our mediatrix with Him the Virgin Mary, who has destroyed all heresies throughout the world, and who, the well-beloved mother of us all, is very gracious * * * and full of mercy, * * * allows herself to be touched by all, shows herself very clement toward all, and takes under her pitying care all our miseries with unlimited affection (St. Bernard, Germ. de duodecim prerogativis B. M. V. in verbis Apocalypti), and who, "sitting as Queen upon the right hand of her Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, in a golden vestment shining with various adornments, knows nothing which she cannot obtain from the Sovereign Master. Let us implore, also, the intervention of the blessed Peter, chief of the Apostles, and of his co-Apostle Paul, and of all those saints of heaven, who, having already become the friends of God, have been admitted into the celestial kingdom, where they are crowned and bear palms, and who, henceforth certain of immortality, are entirely devoted to our salvation."

Lastly, let us ask of God from the bottom of our heart the abundance of all His celestial benefits for you. We ourselves bestow upon you, venerable brethren, and upon all clerks and faithful of the laity committed to your care, our apostolic benediction from the most loving depths of our heart, in token of our charity toward you. PIUS IX., Pope.

Given at St. Peter's, in Rome, this 8th December, 1864, the 10th anniversary of the definition of the dogma of the Immaculate Conception of the Virgin Mary, the Mother of God.

A Very Meritorious Object.

NEW-YORK, Thursday, Jan. 12, 1865.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Public attention seems to be pretty generally called to the necessity of some additional means of making comfortable the soldiers who leave or arrive in this city by the New Haven Railroad. Apart from the fact that on Sunday, the depot is closed, and sick and wounded men are kept waiting for hours in the street—a grievance which it would seem to be the duty of the Railroad Company to remedy—there is a great need of some place where the soldiers, while waiting, can have a quiet resting-place, where they can get simple food, and receive the attentions that many of them need. In a word, a Soldiers' Rest is wanted. All who have had their attention drawn to this matter, agree that the need is imperative. It is the one point at which our arrangements for the soldiers are defective. The New-England Rooms, and other similar institutions, meet nearly or quite all other wants.

Though attention has been directed to the matter, nothing has been done to remedy the evil. At a gathering of gentlemen last evening, some hundreds of dollars were raised in a few minutes, and an association of experienced ladies stand ready to take charge of the Soldiers' Rest, if fitted up for them. In the belief that all that is required is for some one to move in the matter, I beg to ask contributions of the funds necessary to carry out the object. All sums received will be acknowledged through the papers, and I trust that in a few days a responsible, active committee will be formed, to which the public and myself can turn over the whole matter. The want is, however, so pressing, that I make this direct appeal now. I trust it will not seem egotistical.

Meantime, finding after a careful examination that there was but a single place near the depot suitable for the purpose, which could be obtained, and that that was sought for other purposes, I have taken the responsibility of engaging it, though possession cannot be had for a few days.

Contributions may be sent to me to Box No. 1,826 Post-office, or to my office, No. 45 William-street.

NEW-YORK SEMI-WEEKLY TIMES.

THE NEW-YORK SEMI-WEEKLY TIMES is published THIS MORNING, and may be had at the counter of the publication office in wrappers ready for mailing. Price FIVE CENTS. In addition to the latest intelligence by telegraph up to the moment of going to press, there will be found in the current number full details of all military movements in the different departments from the pens of our special correspondents. Also, all official orders, reports and documents, and the latest and fullest Washington news, European news, with graphic letters from our correspondents in London and Paris, giving the tone of public feeling abroad, i made a special and permanent feature. In addition to Editorials on all the current topics of the day, the SEMI-WEEKLY TIMES has a page of carefully prepared commercial matter, giving the latest financial news and market reports: items of agricultural and domestic interest, compiled from sources many of which are otherwise inaccessible to the American reader; and marriages and deaths of the week.

The "SEMI-WEEKLY RECORD," or news summary—being a careful synopsis and digest of the news of the day, both rebellion and general—is alone worth double the subscription price to the paper, as it preserves in a condensed and conveniently classified form all news of interest, and must prove valuable as a record to all time.

TERMS.—One copy one year, $3; two copies one year, $5. Fresh names may at any time be added to Clubs, both of the WEEKLY and SEMI-WEEKLY, at Club rates.

Perry's
MOTH AND FRECKLE LOTION.

Chloasma, or Moth Patches, Bentigo or Freckles, blemishes in the face called moth, are very annoying, particularly to ladies of light complexion, as the discolored spots on the face show more strongly on blondes than brunettes; but they contribute greatly in marring the beauty on either; and anything that will effectually remove them without injuring the skin in texture or color, would be considered a great achievement in medical science. Dr. B. C. PERRY, who has made diseases of the skin a specialty, has discovered an infallible remedy for the removal of moth, freckles and other discolorations from the face without injuring the skin in texture or color. Prepared only by Dr. B. C. PERRY, Dermatologist, No. 49 Bond-st., New-York. For sale by all druggists. Call for Perry's Moth and Freckle Lotion.

DISEASES OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS.

Editor of New-York Times:

Permit me to call the attention of your readers to the fact that I have retired from general practice, and will in future devote my time and attention exclusively to the treatment of the diseases of the

RESPIRATORY ORGANS,

by my peculiar system of

SPECIFIC TOPICAL MEDICATION.

An extensive and constant practice of over thirty years, during which a large share of my studies, time and attention have been devoted to the treatment of diseases of the THROAT and LUNGS, have enabled me to introduce most important improvements both in the examination and treatment of these organs, by which I have obtained results that attracted the attention of the medical world both in this country and in Europe. This system enables me to convey remedial agents directly to the affected parts, in a manner not attained by any other known method. These are applied in connection with such general treatment as each individual case requires and an extensive experience in that class of diseases suggests. It has proved itself of the greatest value in the following diseases:

CHRONIC CATARRH,
THROAT AFFECTIONS,
LARYNGITIS,
AFFECTIONS OF THE VOICE,
DYPHTHERIA,
ASTHMA,
BRONCHITIS,
CONSUMPTION,

and all the various diseases of the lungs.

The reputation of my peculiar system does not depend upon future experiments, paid-for newspaper puffs, or upon the result obtained in a few selected favorable cases, but has been tested in an extensive practice of over thirty years, both in Europe and this country, in a large number of cases of every description, with the most gratifying results. Living witnesses of the highest respectability residing here and elsewhere, whose names and residence will be cheerfully furnished at the office, will substantiate beyond all doubt the complete success of my treatment.

In retiring from the extensive general practice in which I have been engaged for upward of thirty years, and in concentrating my efforts exclusively upon the treatment of the respiratory organs—a class of diseases so prevalent in this country, and so inimical to life, I yield only to the constantly increasing demand made upon my time by office practice, and in departing from the strict rules of medical ethics, so far as to avail myself of the press as a medium for the introduction of my system to the public at large, I discharge a duty which I owe to those to whom my varied and extensive experience and acknowledged skill might be of vital importance, and who could not be reached through any other channel.

Well knowing the prejudice existing by a portion of the community against specialists, particularly (and frequently justly so) against advertising ones, I think it due to myself to state that I am a regularly educated physician, and have been engaged in the general practice of medicine for upward of thirty years, the last half of which has been spent in this city. I am not only a member of various medical societies, but have the honor to be the founder of several of them, and have, since the commencement of my professional career, constantly contributed the result of my observations to some of the best medical journals of the day.

The proofs of each and every statement here put forth can be readily substantiated, and will cheerfully be exhibited to those interested. This course is rendered necessary by the fact that public confidence has been sadly undermined by some of the medical mountebanks who infest our city, who have advertised in various papers throughout the country, ficticious biographies of themselves, the statements of which differ as widely from their known antecedents as truth differs from falsehood. In order to find new dupes these gentry have to resort to new dodges, and the eye of the public is consequently often greeted with the startling announcement of some new mechanical and pretended scientific contrivance, which, for a more complete mystification, is endowed with some strange-sounding Greek name, as unintelligible to the inventor as it is to the general reader.

The mischief done by these empirics, who usually lack the very first rudiments of a medical education, is truly deploring. They not only frequently injure their victims by improper treatment, but also discourage them by their eclatant failures to perform what they promised from making more judicious efforts for their recovery.

In respectfully inviting the critical scrutiny of a discriminating public into my past record, I feel confident it will fully sustain all I have deemed it necessary to state, to avoid being confounded with that class of imposters to whom I have above referred. Hoping sincerely that your readers will not regard me as egotistical, even though I have spoken in a strain seemingly so, I remain

Yours, respectfully,

ELK RIVER
PETROLEUM AND MINING COMPANY," OF WEST VIRGINIA.

Geologists and practical men unite in their belief, and so report, "that the property of this company—62,860 acres of land, in fee—is in the very centre of the West Virginia Oil Region—has numerous oil and gas springs along the banks of its principal streams, (one of which vies with the famous Burning Spring itself,) and is surrounded by properties on every side that are unmistakable in their oil-bearing character.

The subscription for its purchase is now being made at the office of the undersigned. It contains the names of many of our prominent capitalists and business men, is already far advanced, and will be closed at an early day.

Prof. Richardson's very able and interesting report on the property, with circular attached, containing the conditions of the subscription, and any additional information, can be obtained at this office.

The company is organized under the laws of the State of New-York. The principal office is No. 71 Broadway, with branch offices in Philadelphia and Baltimore, for the convenience of subscribers, where the certificates of stock will be issued to subscribers without delay. The property, embracing upward of 635 acres, has been selected with great care during the last three years, by those of the directors who have been constantly operating on Oil Creek, and throughout the entire oil region of Pennsylvania, as well as Western Virginia, and was not selected to sell, but for the purpose of development and producing oil, having now some ten wells under contract, and being bored with vigor, besides those already completed and producing, making in all 13 wells now on the property. Every acre of this Company's property is bottom, and the best of boring-land, much of it on Oil Creek, Cherry Run, Cherry Tree Creek, Walnut Bend, Alleghany River, and other streams where the lands are being developed with good success and prospects of a very large product of oil.

A. C. BURKE, M. D., No. 142 Union-st., Brooklyn.
WILLIAM M. LITTLE, Esq., (of Wyckoff & Little), Montague-st., near Court, Brooklyn.

The property of this Company consists of 182 acres of good boring territory, in FEE SIMPLE, situate in the heart of the Oil Region, in Venango County, Pennsylvania, together with leases in wells, which are now producing a net product of nearly FORTY BARRELS PER DAY, sufficient to pay at once regular monthly dividends on the capital stock.

It also owns the ENTIRE WORKING INTEREST in two wells which are being bored with every indication of being fine producing wells.

It also owns interest in nine wells, now being sunk, which, when completed, will largely increase its revenue.

The Trustees are determined to make it rank among the best petroleum companies yet formed, and have reserved a working capital of $100,000.

The subscription books, for a limited number of shares, are now open at the offices of Messrs. T. Ketchum & Co., No. 68 Wall-st.; Wm. H. Wallace, Esq., No. 131 Washington-st.; Wm. A. Fowler, Esq., No. 74 Broadway; E. R. Jones, Esq., City Mills, corner Broome and Lewis-sts., in the city of New-York; and Messrs. Wyckoff & Little, Montague-st., near Court; D. K. Ducker, Esq., No. 38 Fulton-st.; D. B. Powell, No. 77 Myrtle-av., in the City of Brooklyn; or of either of the Trustees.

CAPITAL STOCK..........300,000 SHARES.
NATIONAL PAR VALUE..........$5 EACH.
SUBSCRIPTION PRICE only..........$2 PER SHARE.

Stock not subject to any further assessment. Fifty thousand shares or $100,000 reserved for working capital to develop this splendid oil property.

The great advantages that this company possesses over many is, that all its magnificent oil territory has a water front, being situated on the famous Oil Creek and the Alleghany River. The coal lands of the company are also of the greatest importance, as many works are now idle for the want of fuel. The company is now vigorously prosecuting its work, and the very extensive working capital of $100,000 is alone a sufficient guarantee that large and regular monthly dividends may be expected at an early day, which will cause the stock to rapidly rise in value.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

The greater part of the Stock of this Company having been already taken in New-York, Philadelphia and other places, the Trustees give notice that the subscription books will positively close on WEDNESDAY, JAN. 18, 1865, after which time no stock can be obtained at the subscription price.

A FEW FACTS
FOR THOSE INTERESTED,
OR ABOUT
BECOMING INTERESTED, IN OIL COMPANIES.

THE

OF
PHILADELPHIA,
OWNS, IN FEE SIMPLE,
OVER
FOUR SQUARE MILES
OF TERRITORY,
In the best Oil Region of Pennsylvania,
BEING
TWO SQUARE MILES IN WARREN COUNTY, PENN.,
On the line of the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad,
AND
TWO SQUARE MILES ON THE North Salmon Creek, Forrest County, immediately adjoining Venango County, Penn.

The intrinsic value of their territory is greater than that of any other Oil Company now before the public, with the same amount of capital.

THERE WILL BE BUT SIXTY THOUSAND SHARES
of the capital stock sold at the subscription price, $2 50 per share, and not a single share above that number will be sold at any price whatever until the territory is developed. This the Secretary will indorse on the back of each receipt for stock if desired.

A competent Superintendent is rapidly developing the property; he has two engines on the ground, two wells already started, and three more will be in operation as soon as the engines are completed.

There is a valuable saw mill on the Cotter Farm, and timber on the whole of the territory sufficient to give a profit of $200 per day for twenty years, or $400 daily for ten years; there is also a large amount of coal on the two square miles in Forrest County. The timber and the coal will give to the Company a handsome dividend, independent of the oil.

The market value of the territory owned by the Company has increased to such an extent that it is at present worth
THREE-QUARTERS OF A MILLION OF DOLLARS.

The amount of capital that will be raised by the sale of the 60,000 SHARES
WILL BE ONLY
ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

Were the company to sell out either of their properties at the present time, it would realize more than double the amount they will obtain by sale of the above number of shares. No better evidence of the stability of the company, or of the value of their stock, as an investment, can be offered.

The Directors invite all who desire investing in oil stocks to call at their offices and examine prospectus, draughts, etc., where they cannot fail to be satisfied that the ranks among those companies that will stand when all others fail, and that it is on such a basis that stockholders cannot fail to realize a handsome profit aside from the question of oil altogether.

ISAIAH LUKENS, Esq., President.
WM. M. STEWART, Vice-President.
WM. D. SMITH, Treasurer.
E. J. HARRISON, Secretary.

THE MICHIGAN SOUTHERN AND NORTHERN INDIANA RAILROAD COMPANY, OFFICE No. 18 WILLIAM-ST.,
NEW-YORK, Jan. 12, 1865.

TO THE GUARANTEED STOCKHOLDERS.—A Dividend of Five Per Cent., less Government tax, will be paid to the holders of Guaranteed Stock, at this office, on the 1st day of February next.

In order to reconcile conflicting interests in dispute growing out of a claim made by a portion of the guaranteed stockholders for back dividends, this company has consented, as a compromise, to accept of a proposition made by parties owning and representing a large majority of the guaranteed stock, (and by parties who have heretofore brought suits for back dividends against this company, which suits are now, on this settlement, withdrawn. The company deems it but just to offer the same terms of settlement to the remaining stockholders as have been accorded to the majority above-named, viz.:

In addition to the Five Per Cent. Cash Dividend, payable on the 1st day of February next, this company is ready to issue to the guaranteed stockholders common stock at par to the extent of 30 per cent. of the guaranteed stock held by them, in full payment of all claims for dividends and interest accruing prior to February 1, 1865, indorsing such payment upon the face of the guaranteed stock certificates. All common stock so issued prior to the closing of the common stock books, on the 14th of February prox., will be entitled to the Three and a half Per Cent. Dividend on common stock, payable March 1, 1865.

Sealed proposals will be received at the Office of Army Clothing and Equipage, New-York City, till 12 o'clock, M., on TUESDAY, the 17th inst., for furnishing, by contract, at the depot of Army Clothing and Equipage, New-York City:

GREAT-COATS, foot, like standard sample.
GREAT-COATS, mounted, like standard sample.

Bidders will state the number they wish to furnish, how soon they can commence, and the number they can deliver monthly; and will submit a sample of the Kersey of which they propose to make the coats.

Proposals must be accompanied by a proper guarantee, signed by at least two responsible parties, setting forth that if a contract is awarded to the party making the bid, that he or they will at once execute the contract, and give bonds for the proper fulfillment of the same.

The right is reserved by the United States to reject any part or the whole of the bids, as may be deemed for the interest of the service.

The awards will be subject to the approval of the Quartermaster-General.

The supplies must be delivered in Regulation Packing-Boxes.

Proposals should be indorsed "Proposals for furnishing Great-Coats," and addressed to PROPOSALS FOR $234,000.

CENTRAL PARK IMPROVEMENT FUND STOCK OF 1876.

Sealed proposals will be received at the Comptroller's office, until SATURDAY, the 21st day of January, 1865, at 2 o'clock P. M., when the same will be publicly opened, for the whole or any part of the sum of two hundred and thirty-four thousand dollars of the Central Park Improvement Fund Stock, authorized by chapter 85 of the laws of 1860, and by an ordinance of the Common Council, approved by the Mayor, April 25, 1860.

The said stock will bear interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, payable quarter-yearly, and the principal will be redeemed Nov. 1, 1876.

The proposals will state the amount of stock desired, and the price per one hundred dollars thereof, and the persons whose proposals are accepted will thereupon be required to deposit with the Chamberlain of the city the sums awarded to them respectively.

On presenting to the Comptroller the receipts of the Chamberlain for such deposits, the parties will be entitled to receive certificates for equal amounts of the par value of the stock, bearing interest from the dates of payment.

Each proposition should be sealed and indorsed "Proposals for Central Park Improvement Fund Stock," and inclosed in a second envelope, addressed to the Comptroller.

The right is reserved to reject any or all of the bids, if the interests of the Corporation require it.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

THE COMING DRAFT.

IMPORTANT NOTICE
TO ALL WHO ARE ENROLLED AS LIABLE TO DRAFT.

The New-York County Committee on Volunteering have reason to believe that a further call is likely soon to be made by the President for men.

Hitherto, great complaint has been made that the quotas demanded of the County of New-York have been excessive.

As all quotas are based upon the enrollment, it is evident that no relief can be expected except by a reduction of the enrollment to its proper standard.

Although appeals have hitherto been made to citizens to correct the enrollment, there has been little or no disposition shown by the public to discharge its duty in this particular.

It is evident that this duty must be performed by the public authorities, or it will not be performed at all.

By consent of the War Department and the advice of the Governor, the New-York County Committee on Volunteering has determined to undertake the herculean labor of correcting the Enrollment of the County.

No means will be spared to make this correction thorough and satisfactory both to the people and the Government.

Our only object is to correct the enrollment and place it at a proper standard, and every citizen owes it alike to himself and his neighbor to assist in this work.

In addition to other means which will be brought into requisition for the accomplishment of this object, a complete copy of the existing enrollment of each Ward or Election District will be printed and furnished to every enrolled citizen of the Ward or Election District.

This will prevent the excuse which so many who are exempt have made, that they did not know they were enrolled, and hence did not attend to having their names taken from the roll.

It will also afford the opportunity for every man enrolled to see whether or not his neighbor is enrolled, and enable him to secure that those liable and not enrolled shall be put down.

Every person enrolled is requested to aid in the gigantic labor which we have undertaken, by complying with the following conditions:

I. Whenever a name appears of any person who is not enrolled but liable, notice of the fact should be given to the Provost-Marshal of the District, by any person who may be cognizant of the fact, in order that the same may be recorded.

II. Whenever a name appears of any person who has removed, notice of the fact should be given at the Provost-Marshal's office, that the name may be stricken from the roll of that District and recorded where it properly belongs.

III. Whenever a name appears which is known to be fictitious, or any one is aware that the person indicated is not a resident as described, notice should be given at the Provost-Marshal's office, that the name may be stricken from the roll.

IV. Whenever cause of exemption exists for any reason, notice should be given to the Provost-Marshal of the District by the exempt person himself, that the name may be stricken from the roll.

The following are the recognized causes of exemption:

1. Over 45 years of age.
2. Under 20 years of age.
3. Being an alien, and never having voted.
4. Having furnished a substitute in anticipation of the draft.
5. Having been drafted and furnished a substitute.
6. Having been drafted and paid commutation.
7. Having been drafted and received a certificate of permanent physical disability.
8. Being permanently physically disqualified.
9. Having served two years in the Army or Navy during the present War, and being honorably discharged.

In addition to this, so far as possible, every enrolled man will be waited upon personally by authorized agents, deputed to ascertain the liability of all enrolled men, to have those improperly enrolled taken off, and to add those not on, but who should be enrolled.

As this is an effort to correct and not to increase the enrollment, it is to the interest of every person to give correct and true answers to any and all questions which may be put to them, and any person declining to answer or giving false answers render themselves liable to arrest and imprisonment.

This is probably the last attempt which will be made to secure a correct Enrollment of the County of New-York. To be successful the coöperation of every resident of this city and county is absolutely required.

The Government officials have evinced a disposition to afford us every facility to attain the object in view. If, therefore, through the indisposition and apathy of the public, who are most concerned, this effort to correct the enrollment prove abortive, and further excessive quotas are demanded of us, because of the incorrectness of the enrollment, the people of this city and county will be themselves responsible, and they will have none but themselves to blame.

LEGAL NOTICES.

SUPREME COURT.—IN THE MATTER OF the application of THE MAYOR, ALDERMEN, AND COMMONALTY OF THE CITY OF NEW-YORK, by the Croton Aqueduct Board of said city, relative to the acquiring of lands for a Reservoir and appurtenances thereto in the said city, between One Hundred and Seventy-second and One Hundred and Seventy-fifth streets, and the Tenth-avenue and the Harlem River, in the said city, for the purpose of supplying such parts of said city with Croton Water as are not now supplied with the same.

The Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New-York, by the Croton Aqueduct Board of said city, pursuant to chapter ninety-five of the laws of this State, passed April Seventh, Eighteen Hundred and Sixty-three, and chapter two hundred and sixty-seven of the laws of this State, passed April Twenty-first, Eighteen Hundred and Sixty-four, hereby give notice to the owners, lessees, parties or persons respectively entitled unto or interested in the lands, tenements, hereditaments, and premises hereinafter mentioned and described, that they will apply to the Supreme Court of the State of New-York, at a special term of said court, to be held at the City Hall, of the City of New-York, on MONDAY, the Twenty-third day of January, Eighteen Hundred and Sixty-five, at the opening of the court on that day, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, for the appointment of three Commissioners of Appraisal in the above-entitled matter, to estimate in favor of the several owners, lessees, parties and persons interested as aforesaid, a just and equitable compensation for taking all those lands, tenements, hereditaments and premises as lie between One hundred and Seventy-second and One hundred and Seventy-fifth streets and the Tenth-avenue and the Harlem River in said city, which said lands, tenements, hereditaments and premises the said Croton Aqueduct Board deem necessary for the building a new reservoir and appurtenances thereto, in the city of New-York, for the purpose of supplying such parts of the city of New-York with Croton water as are not now supplied with the same, which said lands and premises are laid out and described and are of the extent following, that is to say: commencing at the point where the line between the land of Eliza B. Jumel and of Richard F. Carman intersects the Croton Aqueduct land line, near the gate-house at High Bridge, in the Twelfth Ward of said city, and running thence north fifty degrees, twenty-eight minutes west on said Jumel's and Carman's line, six hundred and forty-nine two-tenths feet to the southeasterly corner of Tenth-avenue and One hundred and Seventy-fourth street, thence south thirty-four degrees, west five hundred and sixteen eight-tenths feet on the easterly line of Tenth-avenue to the north easterly corner of One hundred and Seventy-second-street, thence at right angles to the last line south, fifty-six degrees east along the northerly line of One hundred and Seventy-second-street five hundred and eighty one-tenth feet to land line of Croton Aqueduct, thence on said last-mentioned land line north forty-seven degrees, sixteen minutes east three hundred and forty-six nine-tenths feet, thence also on said last-mentioned land line, north twenty-five degrees, twelve minutes east one hundred and four five-tenths feet, thence also on said last-mentioned land line, north forty-six degrees, thirty-three minutes east thirteen seven-tenths feet to the place of beginning, containing three hundred and five two hundred and six thirty-five one hundred square feet, or seven eight-one thousandths acres.

Also, commencing at a point where the line between the land of Richard F. Carman and of Eliza B. Jumel intersects the westerly line of the Croton Aqueduct lands, near the gate-house, on the Manhattan end of High Bridge, thence on the said line, between the said Croton Aqueduct lands and lands of Richard F. Carman, west forty-six degrees thirty-three minutes east forty-six feet, thence on said line, between said Carman's land and lands of Croton Aqueduct, south seventy-eight degrees thirteen minutes, east three hundred and thirty-five feet, more or less, to low water mark; thence north eleven degrees forty seven minutes; east seventy-nine and five-tenths feet; thence north seventy-eight degrees thirteen minutes; west three hundred and ninety-two and six-tenths feet, to a point near foot-bridge; thence south thirty-nine degrees thirty-two minutes, west to dividing line between the lands of said Carman and Jumel, eighty-nine three-tenths feet, thence south fifty degrees twenty-eight minutes, east eighty-two five-tenths feet, to the point of beginning, containing thirty-four thousand seven hundred and fifty-four seventy-nine one-hundredth square feet, or seven hundred and ninety-eight-one-thousandths of an acre.

PRIVATE DISEASES CURED IN THE shortest possible time, by DR. WARD & CO., No. 62 Franklin-st., near Broadway, without the use of Mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. WARD, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and at less expense than any other can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks, permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. WARD, No. 61 Franklin-st. Call, send, or write.

MANHOOD AND THE VIGOR OF YOUTH regained in three days by Dr. POWERS' ESSENCE OF LIFE. This wonderful agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitutions, radically curing Seminal Weakness, Sexual Debility, and Impediments to Marriage generally; Nervousness, Mental and Physical Incapacity, resulting from self-abuse, &c. The time required to cure the most inveterate case is one week. Failure is impossible. This life-restoring remedy should be taken by all about to marry, as its effects are permanent. Young man, are you subject to that soul and body destroying disease, secret habits? Dr. POWERS' Invigorating Essence is a never-failing cure. Sold by WALTER POWERS, M. D., No. 61 Franklin-st., between Broadway and Elm-st., New-York.

CAUTION.—CHLORODYNE—IN CHANCERY.—It was clearly proved before Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood, by affidavits from eminent hospital physicians in London, that Dr. J. Collis Browne is the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.—See Times, Jan. 12, 1864. The public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE, which is affirmed by medical testimonials to be the most efficacious medicine ever discovered for Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Spasms, Rheumatism, &c. No home should be without it. J. T. DAVENPORT, No. 33 Great Russell-st., London, sole manufacturer. Observe particularly, none genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Stamp. Agent, New-York, Mr. JAMES ASPINWALL, William-st.

MEDICAL AND SURGICAL CONSULTATIONS.—Dr. R. COBBETT can be consulted with the most honorable confidence on private diseases at his conveniently-arranged suite of offices, No. 40 Centre-st., between Chambers and Reade sts., having a private entrance at No. 6 City Hall-place. From Dr. C being one of the oldest, and probably the only qualified physician and surgeon in this City who makes diseases of the genitourinary organs a specialty, he is thus enabled to guarantee speedy and permanent cures, or make no charge. Strictures of the urethra, seminal weakness nervous and general debility treated on the most scientific principles. N. B.—See Dr. C.'s diplomas, in his office, as member of the New-York University Medical College, and College of Surgeons, London. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 8½ P. M.

DR. COOPER, NO. 14 DUANE-ST., MAY BE confidently consulted on all diseases of a private nature. A practice of 30 years, devoted to the treatment and cure of Syphilitic, Mercurial and diseases of a delicate nature, enables Dr. C. to make speedy and permanent cures, no matter of how long standing the case may be. Strictures of the urethra and seminal weakness, brought on by a secret habit, effectually cured. The victims of misplaced confidence, who have been misled by quack advertisements, can call on Dr. C. with the certainty of being radically cured or no charge made.

ADVICE TO MARRIED LADIES, who require a safe and certain remedy for removing obstructions, from whatever cause. Can rely upon the celebrated INFALLIBLE FRENCH FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS. No. 1, price $1 a box, to restore the monthly sickness in forty-eight hours, if of short standing; but obstinate cases, of long standing, may require No. 2, which are four degrees stronger than No. 1, and can never fail, are safe and healthy, price $5 a box. Sold at No. 127½ Liberty-st., and 162 Chambers-st., or sent by mail, with full instructions: address Box 2,359 N. Y. P.O.

DR. POWERS' PERIODICAL DROPS are designed for both married and single ladies, and are the very best thing known for the purpose, as they will bring on the monthly sickness in case of obstruction from any cause, and after all other remedies of the kind have been tried in vain. Expressly for obstinate cases. Warranted as represented in every respect, or the price will be refunded. ☞ Beware of imitations! Purchased directly of Dr. POWERS, 61 Franklin-st., N. Y.

IMPORTANT TO THE MARRIED.—DR. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of Diseases of Women, informs ladies that "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is for every lady, but more particularly intended for those whose health or circumstances forbid a too rapid increase of family. Price $1. Sold at his office, No. 129 Liberty-st., and No. 1 Vesey-st.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.—EXCLUSIVE treatment of diseases of females. Patients from a distance provided with private board, nursing, &c. Remedies for monthly derangements from $1 to $5. Relief guaranteed.

DR. THIERS,
No. 1,217 Broadway, New-York.

DR. GRINDLE, FEMALE PHYSICIAN and accoucher, No. 6 Amity-place, between Bleecker and Amity sts., makes it his special practice to treat all female complaints, from whatever cause produced. Is sure to give relief to the most anxious patient in twenty-four hours time. Elegant rooms for ladies requiring nursing.

A CARD.—DR. LEWIS HAS NO CONNECTION whatever with any other office in this city; his old established private medical institute is only at No. 7 Beach-st., three doors from West Broadway, where the Doctor himself can be consulted as usual from 8 A. M. till 9 P. M. Established 1840.

THE EXHAUSTED RESTORED TO PRIStine vigor and the direful results of imprudence removed by Dr. H. A. BARROW'S infallible remedy. No. 194 Bleecker-st., between Macdougal-st. and Cottage-place, New-York.

MME. GRINDLE, FEMALE PHYSICIAN, No. 6 Amity-place, can be consulted on all diseases of females. Medicines safe and certain. Convenient rooms for ladies who desire good care and medical attendance during confinement.

THOUSANDS ARE RUINED BEYOND REDEMPTION in this life by not calling on Dr. HUNTER sooner or later. He can cure the worst cases of secret disease in a shorter time than any other physician, or no pay taken. Skeptics and doubters will please call and read lots of reliable certificates of cures made within the last thirty years of almost hopeless cases, that had had the benefit of dozens of our most eminent physicians and surgeons. Dr. Hunter is in constant attendance from 8 in the morning till 9 at night, at his old office, No. 3 Division-st., New-York City, since 1834. Charges moderate and a cure guaranteed. Separate rooms, so that the patient sees no one but the Doctor himself. His wonderful medical discovery, DR. HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures private diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, and possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb unless his remedy is used. This is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. $2 per vial. Book, 50 pages, gratis.

LIST OF THE PASSENGERS

DESCRIPTION OF THE VESSEL.

Bark Rechabite, of New-Glasgow, Capt. LEEMAN, from Ragged Island, Dec. 27, with salt to BRETT, SON & Co., arrived yesterday morning. On the 4th inst., in lat. 32° long. 73°, she picked up one bale of cotton. No date, lat. 30° 42', long. 72° 55', she spoke schooner J. Smith, ORLANDO, from Fortress Monroe for Wilmington, with sails split and loss of foreboom; supplied her with twine. On the 8th inst., lat. 38° long. 74°, about 3 A. M., the Captain reports that his attention was attracted by calls from the water. He lay to and lowered a boat, and after some searching discovered a piece of hurricane deck, part of a wreck, floating upon which was a man named ALBERT L. BAYDON. BAYDON stated that he had taken passage on board of one of WHITNEY & HATHAWAY's steamers, the Melville, which sailed from New-York on the 5th inst., bound to Hilton Head, and had encountered heavy southwest winds, with a heavy sea, until the 7th, when at about 9 P. M. the steamer's bows were stove in by the sea. The captain ordered a boat lowered, when he, the chief engineer, the first cook and one seaman, with several others, were swamped in it. The passengers, by bailing with buckets, were enabled to keep the vessel afloat until about 11 o'clock the next day, (Sunday morning,) when the remaining boat was lowered—a metalic life-boat—but before we could get the lady passengers into it, the Melville went down, port bow first, upsetting the life-boat. There was a vessel in sight from about 12 o'clock at night, which was seen often until we foundered, when she was seen no more. I saw a great many perish, and many clinging to pieces of the wreck. I was in company with the life-boat, and within hailing distance of her until about sunset. She was then free of water, and had only three persons in her—I think two men and one lady; they answered my call, but kept clear of me. We were in sight of portions of the wreck until sunset. The boats' crew made no efforts to save any who were still clinging to the wreck. We even burned our mail, consisting of three newspaper bags and one letter bag, with all the matrasses and every combustible thing on board, to signalize the vessel in sight. We had about sixty-five passengers, five of them ladies, and about sixteen officers and crew.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

The Melville was an iron vessel of about 500 tons, built at Hartlepool, England, in 1857. Just before her last fatal trip, her owners expended $15,000 in improving her machinery. She was originally a blockade-runner, and had made several successful voyages to Mobile, before she was purchased by Messrs. MELVILLE & HATHAWAY, who ran her for two years to Matamoras. Capt. WATTLEY, her Commander, resided in Brooklyn, where he leaves a family. The Chief Engineer was MATHEW T. LEVY. The value of the vessel is estimated at $60,000, and of the cargo at $50,000, all of which is insured. The passengers, of whom a list is given below, were nearly all residents of Port Royal.

ARRIVAL OF THE BRIG HARRIET—THREE MORE SURVIVORS PICKED UP.

The brig Harriet, of Halifax, BATRABY, from Porto Cabello, twenty-one days, arrived here last evening, and reports that on the 8th inst., lat. 38° 10', lon. 74° 05', was hailed by a boat containing the mate, third engineer and one passenger of the steamship Melville, hence for Hilton Head, and foundered at sea on the 8th inst. Took them on board, and brought them to this port. Also took on board the boat. They reported having left New-York on the 5th inst., and on the 8th, at noon, foundered, she having the day previous had her bows stove in by a heavy sea, which was occasioned by a heavy northerly gale that commenced on the 7th inst., at 3 P. M., and lasted until 4 A. M., when it moderated. When she went down there was a heavy cross sea on, and she sank very suddenly. The Captain, WATLINGTON, was lost the night previous by the swamping of one of the boats, while launching. At that time the gale was very violent, and a bad cross sea before we left. Most of the passengers were drowned. At 6 P. M., passed a man on a portion of the upper deck of the steamer, and at 10 P. M. was taken on board of the brig Harriet. Capt. BATRABY then says:

"I ran to the north some little distance and then hauled off to the south southeast, having a light breeze from the south, and tacked to the westward, keeping as near the position as possible, and remaining till daylight, and seeing nothing from the masthead, with a glass, kept on our course, and at 9:30 of the 9th spoke the schooner Lucy Walsh, who had seen nothing of the wreck."

The names of those taken on board the Harriet are: A. B. PEACOCK, passenger, of Philadelphia; JOSEPH M. KERNEY, mate; WM. KENEDY, third engineer.

The commander, Capt. WATTLEY, was a resident of Brooklyn, where he leaves a family, MATTHEW T. LEVY was the chief engineer.

Mr. BELLOWS, a passenger, was of the firm of VANDERVEER, THORNE & BELLOWS. Among the passengers, who were mostly business men of Port Royal, were an entire family named BISHOP, Col. STRONG and son, and others.

Mr. O'ROURKE, who figures in the passenger list, shipped a large amount of furniture. The value of the vessel is estimated at $60,000; that of the cargo, which consists of every possible article of merchandise, at $50,000, all of which is insured.

Assault on Mr. Hecker by Street Sweepers.

About noon yesterday, as Mr. JOHN HECKER was crossing the City Park with his counsel, for the purpose of attending court, where his injunction is to be argued, he was attacked by a number of street sweepers, who surrounded him and hustled him upon the steps leading to the Supreme Court chambers. One of the sweepers struck Mr. HECKER on the back of the neck and knocked him down, causing a cut on his face by the fall against the steps. Several gentlemen came to Mr. HECKER's assistance, and he retired into the court room while the doughty street sweepers vented their rage on his hat which had dropped off, and which was kicked about the Park until it was destroyed. Capt. THORNE and a strong force of police took possession of the passage ways leading to the court room, and removed all and had no business there. Mr. HECKER was taken into the Judge's private room, where he remained until the afternoon, when Mr. JOHN E. DEVLIN, the Corporation Counsel, came out on the court-room steps and requested the crowd to retire quietly to their homes; and informed them that probably by Saturday next all disputes about their pay would be settled.

The sweepers answered that this was all very well, but that in the mean time many of them might die of starvation. While Mr. DEVLIN was speaking on the front steps of the court-room, Mr. HECKER was taken out by the back way, placed in a carriage, and driven home.

Resignation of Gen. Ewen.

Brig.-Gen. JOHN EWEN, who, since 1846, has been in command of the Fourth Brigade, has resigned his commission, and has been honorably discharged. His retirement from the service is a serious loss to the division. By order of Gen. SANDFORD, Col. MAIDHOFF, of the Eleventh Regiment, assumes command of the brigade. The following is Col. MAIDHOFF's first general order:

In pursuance of Special Order No. 3, emanating from Maj.-Gen. CHAS. W. SANDFORD, the undersigned hereby assumes command of the brigade. The brigade headquarters are established at No. 402 Broadway. The Commandants of the regiments of this brigade will report for the transaction of business at these headquarters. The officers of the Brigade Staff of Gen. JOHN EWEN are requested to report for duty in person at these headquarters. Maj. KRENKEL will assume command of the Eleventh Regiment until further orders.

By order of Col. J. MAIDHOFF,
Commanding Fourth Brigade.

Eighth Annual Ball of the New-York Caledonian Club.

The Eighth Annual Ball of the New-York Caledonian Club took place last evening, at the City Assembly Rooms. The ball-room was very neatly decorated. The balcony at the west end of the room was hung with the American colors and the club flag, and on the balcony at the opposite end of the room were displayed the tattered and war-worn colors of the veteran Seventy-ninth Regiment Highlanders. The Quadrille and Promenade band furnished some excellent music; and two bagpipes, played by the pipers of the club, gave forth their peculiar sounds, to the evident gratification of the merry Scotchmen. The members of the club were dressed in their national costume, and their numerous plaids and bright jewels contrasted beautifully with with the exquisite dresses of the ladies. The rooms were very well filled, and all present seemed to enter fully into the enjoyment of the evening. At the sound of the bugle the couples took their places promptly on the floor, and the dancing was conducted with great spirit throughout. There was no lack of partners, and the ladies needed no urging.

About 1 o'clock an excellent supper was served, after which the company returned to the ball-room. Dancing was resumed and kept up right merrily until the gray streaks of early dawn came stealing in through the windows and warned the happy dancers that it was time to stop.

The balls of this club have always been quite popular, and the members may congratulate themselves that this one was, if possible, a greater success than any they have ever given.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

RELIEF FOR SAVANNAH—DONATIONS RECEIVED.—The Rebecca Clyde is now loading with provisions for Savannah at Pier No. 14 East River, foot of Wall-street. All goods should be directed to ARCHIBALD BAXTER, Chairman of Chamber of Commerce Committee. Yesterday the following donations were received and shipped on board the Clyde: 147 bbls. of flour; 200 bbls. salt meat; 75 bbls. corn meal; 180 sacks of salt; 50 bbls. of beans; 5 bbls. beef hams; 10 drums codfish; 28 boxes crackers; 5 tierces hams; 5 bbls. lard. About 1,000 bbls. flour are expected for shipment by to-morrow-night.

ALLEGED LARCENIES.—Justice HOGAN committed EDWARD CHESTER, upon complaint of MARY MEADE, of No. 112 Spring-street, alleging that the accused entered her room at night, and, after administering chloroform to her, stole a fur collar and cape, which she valued at $40. MARY BLAKE, of No. 79 Mercer-street, preferred a like charge.... MARGARET CASEY, engaged as a servant for Mrs. ANN MARTIN, of No. 46 East Broadway, and a day or two subsequently ran away, taking $115 worth of Mrs. MARTIN's property. Officer DEESTAER apprehended the accused, and she was committed, yesterday, by Justice SHANDLEY.

CITY NOTES.—A complimentary hop will be given this evening by the officers at the Grant United States General Hospital, Willett's Point, New-York Harbor.... The skating yesterday was superb everywhere. The Fifth-avenue pond, in particular, was crowded all day, and far into the night. Two bands of music contributed greatly to the enjoyment of all, and a brilliant display of fire-works took place in the evening.... OSCANYAN continues his very interesting and amusing entertainments at Hope Chapel.

LAUNCH OF THE STEAMER ARIZONA.—The steamship Arizona, built by Mr. HENRY STEERS for the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's line, will be launched from Mr. STEERS' yard at Greenpoint on Saturday morning next, at 11 o'clock.

SICK AND WOUNDED COLORED SOLDIERS.—FREDERICK DOUGLASS will deliver a lecture this evening at Cooper Institute, for the benefit of sick and wounded colored soldiers.

BROOKLYN NEWS.

THE QUOTA OF KINGS COUNTY.—The committee of the Board of Supervisors who were authorized to proceed to Washington for the purpose of procuring a reduction of the quota, if possible, returned yesterday morning, and report that they were favorably received, and the assurance given that the quota would be fixed upon the basis of the number of men reported by the Supervisors. The committee, therefore, recommend that the correction of the enrollment lists be completed by Saturday next. If this is accomplished by that time, there will be a considerable reduction and no further trouble. It is understood that credits are also to be given for enlistments made previous to the 1st of December last.

BROKEN UP.—A disorderly house at No. 23 James-street, kept by Mrs. JOHANNA O'CONNOR, was broken up on Thursday night, and all hands, consisting of nine females, were taken into custody and locked up to await examination before Justice PERRY.

BROOKLYN POLICE JUSTICES' COURT.—The total number of cases before the Justices' Court during the year 1864, was 5,318, the greater part for assault and battery and drunkenness.

BROOKLYN CITY COURT—Friday, Jan. 13.—Nos. 23, 10, 117, 67, 74.

From Mexico.

MAXIMILIAN AND THE CHURCH PROPERTY.

MEXICO, Tuesday, Dec. 27, 1864.

MY DEAR MINISTER ESCUDERO:—In order to smooth the difficulties which have arisen on account of the reform law, we propose to adopt a means which, while satisfying the just requirements of the country, should reëstablish peace in the minds and tranquility in the conscience of all the inhabitants of the empire. For this purpose, when we were at Rome, we opened negotiations with the Holy Father, as universal chief of the Catholic Church.

The Papal Nuncio is now in Mexico; but to our extreme surprise, he has declared that he is without instructions, and has to await them from Mexico.

The unnatural situation in which we have continued, with difficulty, during seven months, admits of no more delay. It demands an immediate solution. We consequently charge you at once to propose suitable measures in order that justice may be administered without consideration of personal station; that legitimate interests created by these laws may rest secure; correcting the excesses and injustices committed in their name; to provide for the maintenance of public worship and protection of other sacred matters placed under the safeguard of religion; and, finally, that the sacraments may be administered and other functions of the sacred ministry be exercised throughout the empire without cost or charge to the people.

To this end, you will, before anything else, propose to us the revision of the operations of the mortmain and nationalization of ecclesiastical property, shaping it on the basis that legitimate transactions executed without fraud, and according to the laws which decreed such amortization, shall be ratified. Labor, in fine, according to the principle of free and ample toleration, keeping in view that the religion of the State is the Roman Catholic and Apostolic.

MAXIMILIAN.

LAW REPORTS.

Court Calendar—THIS DAY.

SUPREME COURT—Part I.—Adjourned to Monday, 10th inst. Part II.—Short causes—Nos. 827, 1259, 1211, 1054, 1168, 1238, 1348.

SUPERIOR COURT—Part I.—Nos. 1743, 3391, 4617, 3780, 3996½, 4761, 4637, 3651, 4771, 4775, 4777, 4779, 4781, 4783, 4785. Part II.—Nos. 4646, 4630, 2574, 4444, 4726, 4728, 4730, 4732, 4734, 4736, 4738, 4740, 4742, 4744, 4746.

Conviction for Manslaughter.

COURT OF OYER AND TERMINER.

Before Judge Barnard.

The People vs. Elizabeth Sarokoa.—The prisoner was indicted for murder in the first degree, and brought up for trial. The circumstances of the case are familiar to the public, she being the negress who assaulted and killed an aged Irish woman in the Sixth Ward Station-house. Her counsel offered a plea of manslaughter in the third degree, which was accepted by the District-Attorney, and the prisoner was remanded for sentence.

William Acherman, indicted for an attempt at grand larceny, was called up for trial, but failed to appear and his bail was forfeited.

His Honor refused to grant an application for delay in this case, saying that the administration of justice in this city was getting to be a farce. A criminal ought to be tried, and if guilty, sent to the State Prison twenty-four hours after he was arrested. No other cases being ready the Court adjourned.

Criminal Business.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

Before Judge Russell.

Charles Kellings was tried for an assault and battery on Charlotte Fisher, on the 29th of October last. The prisoner was one of the German Tailors' Association, at that time on a strike, and the woman was employed as a tailoress. It was charged and shown by the evidence, that while complainant was crossing Broadway near Eighth-street, she felt a burning sensation on her arm, and discovered that vitriol had been thrown on her clothing and person. On looking up she saw the prisoner near her, with something in his hand. She found out who he was, and had him arrested. The evidence of the complainant was not essentially corroborated, and the jury acquitted the prisoner.

Hugh Darrow plead guilty to a felonious assault, and was remanded for sentence.

David Duff, indicted for forgery in the third degree, plead guilty to forgery in the fourth degree. Prisoner had been employed by the firm of Matthew Morgan's Sons, as a clerk, and forged their name to a check for $15,000. On the solicitation of the Messrs. Morgan, sentence was suspended and prisoner was discharged.

Court of Appeals.

ALBANY, Thursday, Jan. 12.

The following is the day calendar of the Court of Appeals for Friday, Jan. 13: Nos. 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77.

Stocks were excited, but not very strong on the call; after the call the market improved. There was great excitement in North Western and Mariposa. Gold was firm on the call; after the call it stood at 221¾, and at the close at 222.

THURSDAY, Jan. 12—P. M.

The following are the official figures of all Legal Tender Notes of the United States outstanding on 31st October, 1864, and 10th January, 1865:

	Oct 31.	Jan. 10.
Greenback circulation...	$433,160,569	$433,160,569
One year 5 ℔ cents., legal tender	43,585,000	41,325,568
Two year 5 ℔ cents., legal tender	15,748,000	13,961,031
Two years coupon, 5 ℔ cents., legal tender.....	61,156,110	50,308,450
Three years compound 6 ℔ cents., legal tender..	102,329,680	111,478,370
Total	$656,009,350	$650,254,968
Decrease since Oct. '31		$5,754,371

We presume that the above statement will be accepted by the occasional croakers against our Greenback and other Legal Tender Currency as conclusive against their gratuitous assumption, some weeks ago, that the Secretary of the Treasury favors an increase of this circulation, either as a matter of choice or necessity.

The market for Money continues to manifest a restored ease in the supply both at Bank and from private lenders. The surplus balances of the public are rapidly passing into Government Securities. The Gold-bearing Stocks are again higher to-day, and the subscriptions to the Popular 7-30 ℔ cent. Loan, convertible into 5-20s after two and a half years, are daily growing in amount. The public are also taking the 10-40 Bonds from the recent subscribers at an advance of ½@1 ℔ cent. on the cost from the Government. They stand to-day in market value 102⅝@102¾ ℔ cent., which is still 1@1¼ ℔ cent. below the accrued interest since Sept. 1, counting Gold at 218@220 ℔ cent.

The Gold Room had another fall of 3@4 ℔ cent., to-day, making over 10 ℔ cent. decline in three days. The Room has been filled with peace rumors for the last eight-and-forty hours, said to come from private sources at Washington, where it may be they are manipulated, as rumors of a directly opposite bearing frequently have been, for special temporary effort in the Gold Room. But as they have a certain measure of support in the dispatches to the morning papers, and in the present position of the Southern cause and the onward course of our own military successes, there is more or less credence or importance given to them on the Street and at the Stock Exchange.

The Railway list was sold down at the early Stock Exchange Board to-day, in sympathy with the above-mentioned Peace feeling. The Bear interest operated with much confidence, and considerable sales of the New-York and Western Roads were made, on the calculation of a further decline in prices. Between the Boards, the market improved nearly 1 ℔ cent., and at the Second Board, 2@3 ℔ cent. was paid in some cases on the lowest sales of the morning.

At 4 o'clock the following quotations were made as compared with the same hour on Wednesday. The Railway market steady. Mariposa 13½, after selling down to 9 ℔ cent. in the morning. Gold 219@219½ ℔ cent:

They reported having left New-York on the 5th inst., and on the 8th, at noon, foundered, she having, the day previous, had her bows stove in by a heavy sea, which was occasioned by a heavy northerly gale, that commenced on the 7th inst., at 3 P. M., and lasted until 4 A. M., when it moderated. When she went down there was a heavy cross sea on, and she sank very suddenly. The Captain (Watlington) was lost the night previous, by the swamping of one of the boats while launching. At that time the gale was very violent, and a bad cross sea Before we left, most of the passengers were drowned. At 5 P. M., passed a man on a portion of the upper deck of the steamer, and at 10 P. M. was taken on board the brig Harriet. Capt. Batraby then says: "I ran to the N. some little distance, then hauled off to E. S. E., having a light breeze from S., and tack to the W., keeping as near the position as possible, and remaining till daylight, and seeing nothing from the masthead with a glass, kept on our course, and at 9:30 of the 9th, spoke the schr. Lucy Walsh, who saw nothing of the wreck." The names of those taken on board the Harriet are: A. B. Peacock, passenger, of Philadelphia; Joseph M. Kerney, Mate; Wm Kennedy, 3d Engineer.

LUNG COMPLAINTS;

the other a positive cure for

DYSPEPSIA

in its worst stages, and a

SOVEREIGN REMEDY
FOR ALL DISEASES

that originate in a

DISORDERED STATE OF THE
STOMACH OR BOWELS.

We warrant both of them, in every instance, if our directions are followed.

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE cures Dyspepsia positively.

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE cures indigestion and constipation in every instance.

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE cures distress after eating, instantaneously.

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE sweetens the stomach, purifies the breath, and instantly stops sourness, acidity, and rising of food.

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE cures sick headache, sickness at the stomach, and PAINS OR COLIC in the bowels.

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE creates an appetite—gives vigor and strength to the whole system.

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE cures flatulency, weakness, and general debility; it makes the weary ambitious, the feeble strong, the debilitated healthy—for it enables the patient to take plenty of healthy food, which is the parent of the body.

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE allows you to eat a hearty meal without fear of distress afterward, for it will stop it as soon as it is swallowed.

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE is a purely vegetable preparation, contains no opiates, no poison, nothing hurtful, but acts promptly, surely and immediately.

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE is the best remedy in the world for dyspepsia, indigestion, sick headache, heart burn, fever and ague, nausea at stomach, and, in fact, all diseases or pains in the stomach or bowels.

LYON'S PERIODICAL DROPS,
THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES.

These Drops are a scientifically-compounded fluid preparation, and better than any pills, powders or nostrums; being liquid, their action is direct and positive, rendering them a reliable, speedy and certain specific for the cure of all obstructions and suppressions of nature.

Their popularity is indicated by the fact that over 100,000 bottles are annually sold and consumed by the ladies of the United States, and every one of them speaks in the strongest terms of praise of their great merits.

They are speedily taking the place of every other female remedy, and are considered by dealers, consumers, physicians, and all who know aught of them, as the surest, safest, and most infallible preparation in the world, for the cure of all female complaints, the removal of all obstructions of nature and the promotion of health, regularity and strength.

Explicit directions, stating when they may be used, and explaining reasons why and when they should not be used, without producing results contrary to the course of nature's chosen laws, will be found carefully folded around each bottle with the signature of Dr. JOHN L. LYON, without which none are genuine. They are prepared at the laboratory of JOHN L. LYON, M. D., No. 195 Chapel-st., New-Haven, Conn., who can be consulted either personally or by mail (inclosing stamp) concerning all private diseases and female weaknesses.
